Pacifica, Daly City Hold Meet

Utilities for New School Involved

Daly City and Pacifica have reached an impasse over a proposed land swap, that has been discussed sporadically for the past years.

The city councils of the two north county neighbors got together at an informal session at Val's restaurant last week but failed to agree on terms of the land trade.

The land involved in the trade is owned by the Henry Doelger corporation.

Edward King, vice president of the Doelger company, said last week that the firm is willing to cooperate with either council in helping to work out an agreeable exchange.

"It is a matter between the councils that should be worked out as soon as possible," King said. "It is a problem that will get worse if it is let go."

The dinner meeting was the first between the councils on the land swap since construction began on the new Franklin Delano Roosevelt Elementary school in the area proposed for exchange.

The school is 75 per cent completed and is scheduled to open for classes in the fall. Installation of permanent facilities, such as electricity, street lighting, roads, and sewers are awaiting a final decision by the councils.

At a meeting Monday night, trustees of the Jefferson Elementary school district instructed its administration to contact the district's legal counsel about responsibility for the services.

Trustees were told that a contract with the Doelger firm provides that the company provide water and sewage facilities for the school.

The contract covered the purchase of land from Doelger for the new school.

Officials of both cities indicated last week that unless something was done, presumably by Doelger, to change the status of negotiations they would stick by their original stands, which were clarified at the informal meeting.

The land swap would involve property on opposite sides of the Edgemar freeway.

Pacifica said it wants to trade 66 acres of land between the Pacific Ocean and the freeway and adjacent to Daly City's southern boundary for 32 acres on the east side of the freeway.

Sewer Pact To Be Asked

With the proposed land swap between Daly City and Pacifica at a stalemate, an agreement providing temporary sewer facilities for the Franklin D. Roosevelt school, located within the disputed area, will be discussed by Pacifica city council tonight.

The school, now under construction by the Jefferson Elementary school district to serve residents of Westlake Terrace, is in Pacifica.

Also at the Pacifica council meeting tonight, a vote will be taken to permit the Doelger corportation to build a temporary sewer conection from the school site to the North San Mateo county sanitation district facilities on Belcrest drive in Daly City.

The council has been asked by the sanitation district to ap-

Bond Issue to Be Sought for Coast Flooding

By Lois McNally

Pacifica's citizens' committee on city drainage will ask for a bond issue of nearly $2 million to prevent future flooding and erosion of property.

Dan Martin, committee chairman, confirmed that "we are definitely going to go for a bond issue and hope people will vote for it."

He said committee members had concluded that it wasn't practical to try to establish assessment districts along creek banks and try to get corrective work done piecemeal.

They feel the situation is so serious that they want to see the bond issue passed and work begun before next winter's heavy rains, Martin added.

The committee believes that the increased runoff is being caused by increased building, particularly on steep hillsides and upstream from older developments, and that the flooding and erosion problems in the city will get worse, Martin explained.

Committee members recently went before the city council to ask for a moratorium on future building until something is done to improve the drainage system.

At the suggestion of Councilman George Mason, the matter was tabled until the committee's final report is submitted.

Martin said committee members were "so shocked by what we saw" that they were anxious for the council to know of their feelings.

He said council members have now been made aware of the problem and that "whatever happens, will be on their conscience."

he called the committee the hardest-working group he has ever known.

He said they spent entire Saturdays visiting and investigating every instance of flooding or erosion or other drainage problem reported to them.

"We have heard hours of verbal testimony and studied reams of letters from citizens," he said.

Martin described the committee as "struck dumb" by viewing such things as mud lines from flooding in Linda Mar garages

San Mateo county fair directors yesterday outlined plans to house exhibitors' booths in a large four-poled circus tent.

Meanwhile, county authorities indicated that condemnation of the big floral exhibition building may mean its removal and replacement by an entirely new building completely.

Board president Ed LeVesconte and former president and board member Anthony Gaggero were noncommittal as to the future of the old building now being roped off to keep spectators away.

COUNCIL TOLD

Annexation of Bayshore City A Month Away

By RON BATES

The Bayshore City annexation express rolled closer to Daly City Monday with diminishing chances of derailment.

The Daly City council canvassed the votes of a special annexation election last week and introduced an ordinance accepting the election results.

Within 30 days, Bayshore City will become part of Daly City, according to City Attorney Paul Hupf.

Bayshore residents elected to join Daly City by a vote of 543 to 116. The special annexation election drew 82 per cent turnout of the 922 registered voters in the area.

The only possible way Daly City's move could be derailed would be a "quo warranto" from the attorney general's office, Hupf said.

Persons requesting the action would have to show cause that Daly City was acting against the best interests of the people, he explained.

"It makes for an interesting situation," Hupf said. "The attorney general has to change hats and represent the people of Daly City and Bayshore in weighing the over-all aspects of the proceedings."

The attorney general had represented the Cow Palace in ef-

Municipal Employes Get Raise

Daly City municipal employes were granted pay raises Monday ranging from two and a half to seven per cent by the city council.

A move to standardize the working hours of all city employes at 40 hours, however, was sent back to the personnel board for study.

The 40-hour ruling would affect all women employes and nine male employes who presently work only 37½ hours a week.

The pay raise, as originally introduced, did not take into consideration the longer hours that would be worked.

"If you give the employes a two and a half per cent increase in pay and then make them work two and a half hours longer, you're giving them nothing," Councilman Robert St. Clair said.

He added that if "an outstanding discrepancy" in working hours is involved and an unharmonious situation exists, it should definitely be "ironed out" before the issue is returned to the council.

Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi spoke on behalf of the women employes in his department.

"I'm neither for nor against the 40-hour proposal," he said, "but I do believe the timing is wrong. It should be referred back to the personnel board."

He said the proposal appears to have come up "on the spur of a moment" and the employes have not had time to study it or

Some Unique Instructions

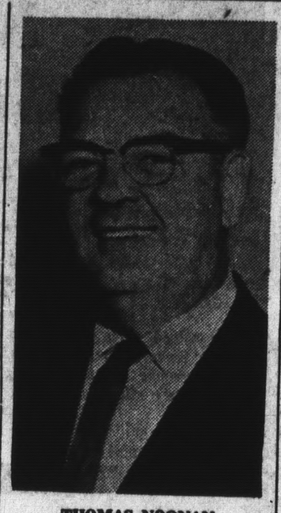
Daly City Councilman Robert St. Clair, talking tongue-in-cheek, had some unique instructions for City Manager Edward Frank Monday following the council's canvassing of votes of the special annexation election in Bayshore City.

They were:

"Arrange a meeting with the board of directors of the Cow Palace so that we can formally welcome them into Daly City.

"We should start preparing press releases having Daly City welcome the National Republican convention."

His suggestion about inviting the directors of the Cow Palace drew a roar of laughter from fellow council members and residents attending the meeting.



THOMAS NOONAN
Re-elected Chairman

Noonan Is Re-Elected JESD Head

The Jefferson Elementary school district board of trustees has re-elected Thomas Noonan as chairman.

Also elected at the board's annual organizational meeting were Dr. Donald Calvert as vice chairman; Mrs. Katherine R. Mullen as clerk of the board; Joseph Lewkowitz as vice clerk of the board and O. Wayne Douglas as trustee representative.

At a meeting Monday night, trustees voted to meet the first, second and fourth Monday nights of every month rather than every Monday night.

The subject of meeting dates was raised by Lewkowitz who at first moved that the board meet only on the second and fourth Mondays.

"A lot of paper work could be concentrated into just two meetings and free the administration for other jobs," Lewkowitz contended.

He said the board often met to consider only a few items on its agenda.

Mrs. Mullen said she favored several meetings a month to give board members an opportunity to learn more about its teaching staff and the programs in use in the district.

Douglas said "I wonder if it's possible to run a district of this size on only two meetings a month."

Noonan commented that when the board was meeting only twice a month, the meetings ran late into the evening.

In the end, trustees agreed to try out a compromise three-meeting a month plan, suggested by

Supervisor's Post Sought

By DON MILLER

Mayor Joseph J. Verducci of Daly City today announced he will seek election next year to the newly-realigned fifth supervisorial district of San Mateo county.

The announcement followed a meeting with Supervisor Alvin Hatch of Half Moon Bay who has represented the Coastside district for 27 years.

Hatch indicated earlier this year that he will not seek another term. He is chairman of the county's board of supervisors.

Verducci said he had met with Hatch to discuss present and future problems facing the county.

The fifth district was realigned January 22. It includes Daly City for the first time.

In announcing his candidacy, Verducci became the second north county official to enter the race.

Jean Fassler, Pacifica City councilman, threw her hat into the election derby May 22.

Verducci and Mrs. Fassler are expected to be among a raft of candidates who will seek the the fifth supervisorial district post.

The election will be held next June.

Verducci had indicated as long ago as early March that he was interested in seeking the supervisor post.

He told The Post-Times then he would enter the race "depending upon the outcome of some obstacles now existing."

And he explained that these obstacles were tied up in possible legal complications over his regular job as director of athletics and assistant dean of students at San Francisco State college.

He disclosed today that "all the Coast Faces Tax Increase

Pacificans will face a 12½-cent increase in their property taxes if the city council accepts city manager Karl Baldwin's proposed budget of $1,344,491 for 1963-64.

Just completed, the budget message will be presented at a council meeting tomorrow night and councilmen are expected to schedule a series of special sessions to study its proposals.

The city manager's budget calls for an increase in spending of $174,801 or 14.9 per cent over last year's budget.

Because of additional revenues totaling $485,580, some of which reflect a rise in the city's assessed valuation, the city manager's original recommended tax rise of 21 cents has been reduced to the 12½-cent figure.

The budget calls for a general salary increase of five per cent for all city employes, an increase already recommended by the city's personnel board.

Cost of salary and fringe benefit recommendations, including increases to 18 employes ranging up to 11 per cent come to $40,740.

Boys Seized In Vandalism

Two 12-year-old Pacifica boys were charged last week with causing damage estimated at $8000 to $10,000 to the new Cabrillo elementary school in Pacifica June 29.

Their arrest followed an intensive investigation by Pacifica policeman Ray Karcweski who spent his day off talking with youngsters before he obtained a lead.

The two suspects were taken to Hillcrest juvenile hall.

One of the boys freely admitted his part in the vandalism. The father of the second, however, at first refused to permit police to talk to his son.

Pacifica police then obtained a warrant from juvenile court and arrested the boy.

FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

An Active Program

(Editor's Note: Each community's older citizens today are facing their future with an outlook and a vigor radically different from the way in which their ancestors faced the golden years. This is the second in a series of articles on senior citizens of Daly City and of Pacifica and how they are filling their lives with a well-rounded program of activities.)

By LOUANNE HEATH

TWO WELL-ORGANIZED groups serve senior citizens today in Daly City and Pacifica. Aside from a few organizational details, the two groups are nearly identical insofar as their aims and activities are concerned.

One of the groups is known as the Senior Citizens of Daly City. Members meet at 10:30 Wednesday mornings in the social hall of the Community Baptist church of Westlake.

The other, in Pacifica, calls itself the Fifty Plus club. Members meet the first and third Tuesdays of each month, usually in the Pacifica City hall.

The Daly City senior citizens, after arriving at their meeting place, usually disperse into small groups to sew, play games or just chat until noon when members gather together for a sandwich (everyone brings one from home) and coffee.

The first Wednesday of each month is devoted to a birthday party, honoring those members who will observe a birthday during the month.

Names of the birthday celebrants are read, a cake is served and fellow members sing "Happy Birthday."

Singing is a regular part of these meetings whether there is a party or not. Once the luncheon things are put away, the song books are passed out and Willard Wagner, treasurer and pianist, moves over to a piano and club president Beatrice Batz and her brother, Robert Ceiley, lead the singing of a group of old standards.

According to Wagner: "We may not sound too good but it makes us feel real good to sit around and sing for awhile. After we break up and go back to our games or the sewing, we feel a lot happier because we have all been able to share this fun with music."

The many smiling faces in the crowd shine as proof that his philosophy is sound.

ON DISPLAY at each meeting is a long table covered with lovely smocked pillows, gay embroidered pillowslips, dish towels and dainty aprons. Each bears a price tag so small that it is almost unbelievable.

All the items have been made by the members, who enjoy doing facy work. They are sold to help defray the cost of the picnics, tours or other outings that the officers plan periodically.

Since the formation of the Daly City group in 1960, membership has grown from eight or nine persons to 85 members ranging in age from 50 to Mrs.

Bicycles to Be Auctioned

Bicycles, abandoned or lost and unclaimed, will be auctioned off by the Daly City Police department at 10 a.m. Friday at the rear of the Daly City hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Auctioned will be 17 boys' bicycles, six girls' bicycles, 15 tricycles and small bicycles and miscellaneous articles.

Each item will be sold for cash only. All the items will be sold "as is."

$103,000 Suit Filed

A $103,500 claim has been filed against the Jefferson Elementary school district by the parents of a third grade student who claims she was truck in the eye last April by a pencil thrown by a classmate.

Trustees of the district were informed of the suit Monday night by David Shapiro, the district's assistant superintendent for business.

The student is Patti Gatti of 487 D street, Colma.

In the claim, prepared by Redland and Pinney, San Francisco law firm the plaintiff states that the pencil-throwing incident occurred April 25" . . . resulting in serious disabling injury to the left eye."

The law firm stated that the exact amount of damages could not be determined at this time but estimated that special damages would total $3500 and general damages $100,000.

Jefferson trustees voted to reject the claim and refer it to the district's insurance company. This is standard procedure.

Senior Citizens Set Brisk Pace

Mary Misenhimer who boasts of being 94 years old and Edmon Scott who admits that he is only 89 years old.

Of the original group four are still actively involved. They are Mrs. Marie Bernard, who is club secretary; Mr. and Mrs. John Matson and Ivylei Lderer.

Mrs. Batz, though not a charter member, has long been one of the strong forces within the unit and currently is serving her fourth term as president. She is assisted by Wagner, Mrs. Bernard and Mrs. Mildred Lockhard, vice president, and George Girth coordinator.

Even though all the officers insist that the chief objective of the club is to provide the members with opportunities for fellowship, the group manages ot contribute a good deal to others.

For example, over a period of time the Daly City group has donated 172 pairs of slippers to the San Francisco county hospital and 160 pair of slippers to the Laguna Honda home.

Members also have made and donated baby clothes for the Church World Service project and made lap robes for people who are ill.

All the items have been made of cloth scraps members have saved or from donated materials.

Each week, about a dozen women gather around a sewing machine and do finishing work in turn.

The women would like more machines but there is no budget for them. They hope citizens will learn about the good they do and will donate old sewing machines and usable material so that the sewing group can produce even more.

THE PACIFICA GROUP also is involved in charity work of a similar nature but instead of slippers, the women work primarily on lap robes that they donate to World War I veterans in the Veteran's hospital in Palo Alto.

Last Christmas, the club gave a party at the hospital, presented bed throws to the patients and provided a lively afternoon of fun and games.

The idea was so well received by both the members and the veterans that the club plans to repeat the affair annually, according to the club president, Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan.

Both senior citizens groups charge nominal annual dues and rely on other means to raise enough money to continue their programs.

In Pacifica the organization holds an annual fund-raising event to which the public is invited.

This year the project will be a Sunday luncheon in October. Guests will be asked to donate $1.75 each or $3 per couple for adults. Grammar school children and toddlers will be served for only 50 cents, Mrs. Calhan explained.

In addition to the projects undertaken by the group, officers plan many entertaining and educational programs for each meting.

Recently, William Stephenson of the public relations division of the Standard Oil company, accompanied the group on a tour of the company's Richmond refinery.

He showed members details of production and guided them through exhibits and displays.

On another recent date, members honored vice president Florence Swearenger at a surprise luncheon, paying tribute to her for h[e]r efforts on behalf of the club.

nounced that she was moving to Atascadero and would resign her office. So instead of bringing sandwiches for the usual noontime snack, members met as usual, in the Pacifica city hall and then adjourned to the social hall of the Little Brown church for a party.

forts to defeat the move earlier in the proceedings.

The ordinance requires another reading and then must be sent to the secretary of state and to the San Mateo county boundary commission.

The council instructed the city's technical staff to take all necessary steps to insure the integration of the new area to Daly City as soon as it is legally possible.

City Manager Edward Frank assured the council that everything was set and city services to Bayshore City would begin about 30 days from the reading of the ordinance.

Noonan. The board chairman said this proposal would mean that no more than two weeks could intervene between meetings.

In other action, trustees said they wanted to inpsect recently-completed additions to Colma school before signing a notice of completeion that would release 10 per cent of the contract price, held back, to the builders.

Noonan observed that this is a policy the district long has followed.

difficulties stated earlier have been ironed out."

The mayor explained that permission to run for the county post had been granted by all parties concerned, including the state college board of trustees.

Verducci has been a member of the Daly City council since 1952 and has served as mayor for six years.

He is president of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors and vice president of the League of California cities.

He is well known in the sporting world for his success with college football teams and as a player himself while attending the University of California.

In 1931, Verducci was dubbed "Little Joe" when, at 5-6 and 155 pounds, he became one of the smallest quarterbacks in the university's history.

He has been director of athletics for San Francisco State since 1950 and until 1960 served as head football coach. His teams at State won 76 and lost 27.

He is a member of the National College Athletic association's rules committee and is head Northern California scout for the Chicago Bears of the National Football league.

In addition to his municipal, college and sports roles, he also serves on the San Mateo County Boy Scout Executive Board, is a member of the Daly City Rotary club, serves as a commissioner for the Pop Warner football league and is a member of the board of directors of the San Mateo county health association.

The Daly City mayor lives with his wife, Florence, and their son, Jerold, 13, at 118 Wilshire avenue. The couple also are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Florence Joan Armstrong of Berkeley and Diane Verducci of San Francisco.

Cities Fail To Agree on Land Trade

These 32 acres at the northern tip of the Fairmont subdivision comprise a triangular shaped parcel, formed by the junction of the Edgemar freeway and Skyline boulevard.

An M-shaped boundary line is preventing the Doelger firm from efficiently laying out that portion of the subdivision.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci said the Pacifica proposal was not acceptable to his council.

"It is not fair to both communities," he said. "Acreage is not an important factor in the trade. Daly City feels the (Edgemar) freeway is the natural boundary line."

The area Daly City wants comprises the 66 acres offered by Pacifica and 34 additional adjacent acres to the south.

The boundary line proposed by Pacifica would run through a large canyon north of the former Globe Wireless land.

Verducci said that 20 acres of the 66 Daly City would receive is occupied by the school—which the city would have to service.

prove the arrangements as soon as possible so that work can be completed in time for the school to open in the fall.

In a report to the council, City Engineer Al Roberts said Pacifica should approve the arrangement providing there is no cost to the city for service, connection, or maintenance charges.

When the two cities reach a final agreement on the land swap, the Doelger corporation has agreed to provide a permanent sewer connection to the city that holds the school site.

Also on the Pacifica city council agenda this evening is the award of a bid for the city's legal advertising for the 1963-64 fiscal year.

The Pacifica Tribune has bid $1.75 per column inch for the first insertion and $1.25 for all subsequent insertions. The Tribune claims a paid circulation of 4499.

The Coastside News, owned by Arnold Kloeppel, has bid $1.45 per column inch and offered a claimed paid circulation of 2983, including a "block of subscriptions" contributed by Carr Pechtel, former publisher who sold the News to Kloeppel in May.

make surveys of their own.

Councilman Francis Pacelli agreed.

"I don't like the way it was handled," he said.

The salary raise granted by the council would not be affected by a final decision on a 40-hour week.

Councilmen indicated a pay adjustment would be considered in any move.

The council also referred the benefits back to the board:

In other action the council:

Did not renew a contract for advertising on trash containers in Daly City with the Baird Advertising company.

Held a second hearing on the revocation of a dance permit for Ye Olde Firehouse at 2159 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Authorized condemnation proceedings for several small strips of land in the Ninetiety street assessment district.

and foot-by-foot, yard-by-yard erosion along Milagra creek which, he said, is becoming known as Pacifica's grand canyon.

The committee has begun the rough draft of its final report and hopes to have it ready for the council in a month and a half, Martin stated.

Sohrab Alikhan, a committee member, said he felt the bond issue was going to be the answer to the drainage problems.

He pointed out that to culvert one problem area, Milagra creek, would cost some 54 property owners $150,000. The $2 million bond issue, including work on all creeks in all sections of the city would cost taxpayers about a dollar per home per month.

Home Building Shows Decline

Estimated value of new construction in Daly City during the first six months of the year was $1,267,680 behind last year's total for the same period, according to figures released by the Daly City Building Inspector's Office.

A lag in the construction of new homes accounted for most of the difference.

Last year, 215 building permits were issued for new homes with construction value estimated at $3,420,156. This year permits for 107 new homes with approximately $1,553,615 in construction valuation were issued.

A total of 536 building permits were issued for the first six months last year as compared with 499 this year.

Building in the first two months of this year fell considerably below last year when 207 permits for construction estimated at $2,533,753 were issued.

During January and February of this year, only 121 permits for construction estimated at $498,212 were issued.

Busiest month during the six-month period this year was in March when 122 permits were issued. The value of construction was estimated at $1,795,066.

Building picked up during May and June in comparison to last year.

In 1962, the building inspector's office issued 86 and 58 permits during May and June, respectively. This year, the office issued 96 and 80 permits.

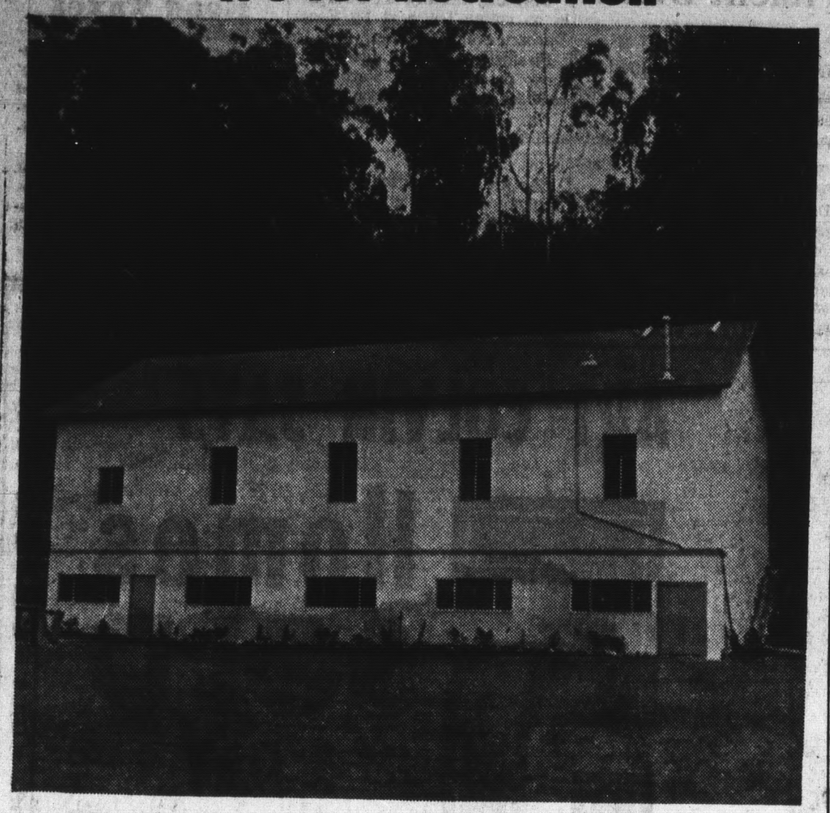
It's for Recreation



Center Dedicated

Pacifica's new Oddstad Recreation center, situated in 22-acre Oddstad park, has been officially dedicated.

The building, picture above, the third structure recently opened for community functions by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreaton department, will serve as home for the Pacifica Teen club, the Pacifica Players.

It also will serve as an office for Recreation Supervisor James Pekkain and as a meeting place for other community groups.

Walter Griffiths, chairman of the Park, Beach and Recreation commission, presided at the dedication ceremony. He presented a history of the center's construction program.

Griffiths noted that a low construction cost was made possible through the efforts of volunteers who contributed their time toward helping build the center.

Cited by Griffiths for their efforts were Bernard Hyman, Nino Bisio, Peter Periera, Lou Starelli, Frew Ballew, Mrs. Alan Massing, Mrs. James Pekkain and Mr. and Mrs. Al Haven.

He also named these organizations: Oddstadd Homes, Challenge Construction company; Mizpah Fellowship, Unitarian Fellowship, the Pacific Players, the press, the Pacific Gas & Electric company, the Pacific Lioness club Electric company, the Pacifica LLioness club and the city council.

Mrs. Barney Ross, president of Mizpah Fellowship, announced at the ceremony that her organization will complete one of the rooms in the new facility.

Councilman Fred Ballew, representing the city, officially dedicated the center. A tour of the building was held after the ceremony.

Pacifica Sea Scouts Will Tour Sacramento River

Off on a Sacramento river cruise next week are the boys of Pacifica Sea Scouts Ship 74. Skipper P. L. Brauner, 383 Monterey road, said the boys will take a 63-foot air-sea rescue type ship on a shakedown cruise after repairs.

On the three-day cruise, starting July 19, the Scouts will stop at all river ports—including Rio Vista, Vallejo and Antioch.

They will receive lessons in navigation, operating the ships' two diesel engines, radio and radar systems, taking turns at the wheel and acting as deckhands.

They will also participate in standard boat drills, including "abandon ship" and "an overboard."

The ship, christened the "Marian J. Baynes," belongs to the Belmont Sea Scouts. It was donated to the Sea Scouts movement by the government.

The Pacifica Scouts have used the ship previously on bay cruises. This is the first time they will have taken her on a long trip.

The shakedown cruise is in preparation for a trip by the Belmont boys to Seattle the first week in August, Brauner said. Five Belmont Scouts will also be along on the Sacramento trip.

The ship's two engines have 225 horsepower each, with a cruising speed of 12 knots and a maximum sped of 15 knots. The ship is equipped with a complete galley and berths for all crew.

Bo'sun on the cruise will be Danny Long. His mate will be Don Cotton. Cook will be Leo Bellefleur whose chicken and rice won him acclaim on a previous Sea Scout cruise.

Chief engineer will be James Morago. Other crew members will include: Charles Rushing, Paul Thompson, Andy Blahut, Robert Capaci, Bernard Bolter, William Croman, and Homer Oswald. All the boys range on age from 15 to 17 years.

The Pacifica Sea Scouts meet weekly during the year at the Pomo Park recreation center building in Sharp Park.

RICHARD J. HUFFMAN, of the U. S. Air Force, has been reassigned to Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas for technical training as a missile electronics mechanic. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Beagle of 15 Woodland avenue, Daly City. He is a graduate of Westmoor High school and has attended San Francisco State college.

Housewife Is Injured

A young Pacifica housewife who swerved her car to avoid hitting a dog, was badly injured last week.

Mrs. Jane Delberta Thompson, 25, of 60 Carmel drive, suffered fractures of both jaws and severe lacerations of the face and lips, requiring immediate plastic surgery, when she lost control of her vehicle and crashed into a house at 2 Westmoor avenue, Daly City.

A witness, Joseph W. Campbell, 1280 Sullivan avenue, Daly City, said he was driving behind Mrs. Thompson when he saw her swerve to avoid a dog near the Westmoor and Ocean Grove intersection. The vehicle jumped the curb and smashed into the house.

Book of Amos Will be Topic

The book of Amos will be the topic for a series of sermons given by the Reverend George S. Johnson of Bethlehem Lutheran church during this month.

Bethlehem Lutheran is holding its Sunday school and Sunday morning worship at Pacific Heights school near Skyline drive and Sharp Park road.

Service News

U. S. FORCES, Okinawa—Army Pvt. James Allander of Daly City, participated in a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization ground defense exercise with other members of the 503d Infantry in Thailand.

Allander is a mechanic in Support company of the infantry's 2d Airborne Battle group, regularly stationed on Okinawa.

He entered the army in October of 1962, completed basic training at Fort Ord and was stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., before arriving on Okinawa last May.

He is the son of Mrs. Gaytha Banes of 36 Oceanside drive, Daly City, attended Tamalpais High school in Mill Valley.

MICHAEL F. DEAL

FORT GORDON, Ga. — Army Pvt. Michael F. Deal, whose wife Mary, lives in San Francisco, has completed a 15-week radio teletype operation course at the Southeastern Signal school, Fort Gordon, Ga.

Deal entered the army in November 1962 and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Throngs See Fireworks

Pacifica's fireworks display was a huge holiday success last week, officials reported.

Crowds gathered early to watch the Rockaway display, seeking vantage points from a quarry and Rockaway beach, the Seabowl area and Fassler drive to Pedro beach.

Pacifica police were out in force and had their hands full in keeping traffic moving on the coast highway during the show.

PACIFICA MURDER

Leniency Denied; Hall Given Five Year to Life Term

A plea for leniency for convicted murderer Joseph Pharr Hall of Pacifica was denied last week by Superior Court Judge James T. O'Keefe.

Judge O'Keefe declared that the 25-year-old father of two was "not a fit subject for probation" and sentenced him to serve five years to life in state prison.

Hall was convicted by a jury of second-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Lillian Wales March 11. He testified that he was drunk and that they fought and he hit her.

When she did not come to, he got rid of the body by throwing it over an ocean cliff at Mori's Point.

In asking for mercy for his client, Attorney John Putkey asserted that he has been a good father and provider for his family.

"I am thoroughly convinced," the attorney said, "that he is not a murderer in the sense the term is usually understood."

The prosecutor, Allison M. Rouse, concurred with the recommendation of Probation Officer R. O. Hegge that Hall be sent to prison.

Hegge notted that Hall had only a minor criminal record.

"Well, you sure made the big time in a hurry," Judge O'Kefe commented.

Hall, who had just been promoted to foreman of the Friendly Acres Water company at the time of the crime, estimated he drank 25 beers that day.

Hegge said the crime may have been a "manifestation of a violent temper which was released by heavy drinking."

"Drinking is no excuse for crime," Judge O'Kefe said. "It would, indeed, be a sad day for law and order if 'demon rum' became a defense to a crime that in itself and by its very nature outrages society."

"You were charged with the crime of murder. The jury said second degree. This was a better break than your defenseless victim received.

"Consider, if you will, what agonizing and terrible thoughts ran through the victim's mind as she hurtled through the air to a crushing (and undesired and undeserved) death on the rocks at the foot of the cliff.

"We do not know whether she regained consciousness after you struck her. We do not know whether or not she screamed on the way down. You alone could have told us, but you didn't. We do know, however, that death came quickly, and this appears to be the only mercy in this case, as far as the victim is concerned."

Detergent Might Have Killed Fish

It appeared this week that detergent dumped into Pedro creek by small boys might be the cause of hundreds of dead trout found floating in the Pacifica creek recently.

James Fox, local sportsman and planning commission chairman, said neighbors had reported seeing boys dump detergent into the creek.

Fox said that detergent is lethal to fish and a few handfuls could kill many fish and last a long while.

He said pollution analysist Don Lollock from the California Fish and Game department was still conducting an investigation and planned to interview the boys.

Lollock added that a laboratory analysis was being made to help determine the cause of death.

The dead fish all were located in the south fork of Pedro creek, which branches off from the middle and north folk east of the former trout farm in the rear of the Linda Mar subdivision.

Fox also said he hoped to persuade fish and game officials to re-stock the stream with catchable fish.

Pedro creek, which wanders through backyards in the Linda Mar area, empties into the ocean just south of the Linda Mar Shopping center. It has long been a favorite summer fishing spot for Pacifica youngsters.

Discipline Committees Are Chosen

A committee of parents, teachers and administrators forming a policy of discipline for the Jefferson Elementary school district has been broken down into three subcommittees.

The subcommittees will study the duties of pupils, teachers and parents and will report back to the main committee later in the summer.

The subcommittee on Pupil's duties met for the first time last night.

Studying the duties of pupils are Mrs. June Neuhaus, chairman, Harry Aronson, Larry Anderson, Mrs. Thomas West, Mrs. Kevin Donovan, Al Parodi and Richard Newton.

Studying the duties of teachers are Mrs. Harvey Cross, chairman, James Thompson, Mrs. Georgina Nyhan, Mrs. Peter Markovich, Mrs. Donald Aron, Joseph Dickerson and Mrs. Eunice Altman.

Studying the duties of parents are Mrs. Joyce Woodworth, chairman, Marjorie Tobias, Mrs. Myrtle Culley, Mrs. Jean Bertken, Mrs. Peggy Ednoff, Mrs. Patricia Bain, Ernest Bloom and Mrs. Eta Palmeri.

The five members of the board of trustees, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Richard Foster, and assistant superintendents Dr. Vinton Stratton and Dr. David Shapiro will be members at large.

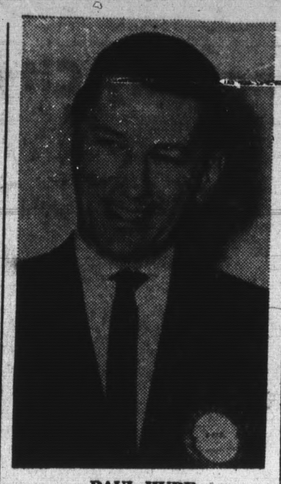
Crocker Sets New Records

Crocker-Anglo National Bank's deposits, loans, capital accounts and assets were at all-time mid-year highs, June 30, representing substantial gains over figures reported for June 30, 1962, Emmett G. Solomon, president and chief executive officer, has announced.

The bank's operating income after taxes for the six-month period also set a record as the highest for any first half-year in Crocker-Anglo's history, he added.

On June 30, deposits totaled $2,125,459,131, an increase of $123,310,407 over the corresponding total last year. Cash and securities June 30 this year amounted to $1,002,073,771.

Loans, less loan reserves, stood at $1,299,027,883 on the 1963 mid-year date — $16,737,808 higher than the $1,129,290,075 figure of a year ago.



PAUL HUPF
Named President

Hupf Named President of Rotary Club

Paul Hupf will be installed as president of the Daly City Rotary club at a ceremony during the club's regular luncheon meeting today in Westlake Bowl.

Hupf, who recently was installed secretary of the club, succeeds Harry Rasmussen who has been promoted to a new position in the Stockton office of the California Automobile association.

Rasmussen also had recently been installed as the club's new president.

Roy Hully, vice president who would have been the successor to Rasmussen under the club's by-laws, informed the board of directors that he could not accept the presidency because of a press of other commitments.

The directors then elected Hupf, attorney for Daly City, to head the club. They named George Riba, a director, as secretary to succeed Hupf. Riba also will be installed today.

These men will continue as honorary members: Wally Meyers, Robert Watson Jr., and Frank Blum.

Traveling Smokescreen Rolls Past

Pacifica fireman Joe Bonollo was working in the garden in front of the Linda Mar fire station on the holiday last week when he looked up and, of all things, here was a smoking garbage truck tooling past.

Now anything smoking will arouse firemen, so Bonollo told his cohorts about it and they boarded a truck and took off after the traveling smokescreen

They caught it at Frontierland road and put out the budding blaze. The driver, a Coastside Scavenger company employee, told the firemen he was trying to make it to the dump and just unload the whole mess before it grew. The firemen shook their heads.

Club to Hold First Session

A new Toastmaster's club forming in Daly City will hold its first organizational meeting at 7 tomorrow night in the Westmoor Park clubhouse on Edgemont drive.

The club program is designed to develop a person's public speaking ability, according to organizer Edward Tomasello.

Another Daly City Toastmasters' group meets Thursday mornings at 7 in the Westlake library. Tomasello feels the early hour might deter others from joining the Toastmasters organization.

Anyone interested in joining may obtain more information from Tomasello at PL 5-0850.

VANDALISM REPORTED

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at 1399 Brunswick street in Daly City reported to police last week that vandals had broken into the church and burned a rug.

Tentative Map Approved For Rockaway Heights

A pedestrian pathway and chained-off fire access road seemed to be the reasonable solutions for all concerned, so the Pacifica planning commission last week approved a tentative map of Rockaway Heights, a 65-acre subdivision being developed by Oddstad Homes.

The Reichling avenue cul-de-sac, which the planners objected to since it was longer than the 500-foot maximum dead-end street ordinance, won't loop with Rockaway and Compton drives, but instead will have the provisions for pedestrians and fire vehicles.

This was agreed to by Edward H. Maykel, representing Oddstad. Reichling drive also has been renamed Whitney drive, Maykel advised the planners.

In a subsidiary action, after the main fireworks, the planners approved the rezoning of the 65 acres from general commercial and agricultural to neighborhood business district, single-family and multiple-family residential.

The Coastside Sportsman's club, a rifle, pistol and trap range, got its use permit renewed for another year in other business.

Boy Injured By Fireworks

A 10-year-old Pacifica boy required several stitches at Milagra Medical center last week after a holiday fireworks accident.

A tossed firecracker exploded near the face of the boy, Keith Willard, 1368 Peralta road, injuring his ear. He was treated and released.

at the POST

THOSE OF you who enjoy the game of baseball but who occasionally become weary of paying a few bucks for the privilege of getting involved in a traffic jam to see the Giants stumble their way to a pennant, could do worse than to get out to Daly City's own Marchbank ball field some Sunday afternoon to watch semi-pro baseball played like it should be played.

Now that the novelties like television and the Giants are wearing off, the semi-pros are making somewhat of a comeback, reproducing the days of the 1940s, when one couldn't find an empty baseball filled in the Bay Area on any weekend. But that's another column.

Being more specific, there's a semi-pro club now cavorting at Marchbank formed of many localites — and of both big names and small. It's the Brisbane Athletic club, a member of a newly formed Peninsula Sunday league that is split into two divisions, Northern and Southern.

Brisbane is in the Northern division, which also embodies Misrack's, of San Francisco, the current favorite, Nicoloti Building of Burlingame and the 2400 club.

On the Brisbane club are a couple of almost legendary ex-Jefferson High school athletes, Don Delbon and Al Figone. Figone, an all league football and baseball star at Jeff, played in the Detroit chain for a few years. He's at his familiar backstop position with the A. C.

Delbon was an all star in three sports—basketball, football and baseball. He attended the University of Oregon on a basketball scholarship, but also starred in baseball. At Jeff, he stepped into the tough pitching shoes of Eddie Cereghino.

Indian basketball coach Mike Orlich has always called Delbon one of his two or three top all times — and Orlich's had plenty of good ones. Delbon will be pitching and playing first base for Brisbane.

Both he and Figone, incidentally, are colleagues of the Terra Nova High faculty. Figone doubles as a social studies teacher and coach, handling the Jayvee football squad and the weight men during track season. Delbon also doubles in brass, teaching social studies, as well, and handling Jayvee baseball and lightweight basketball.

Other possibly familiar local names on the team are Marty Coil, who played first base for Terra Nova this past season; Scott Shackleford, an outfielder; Rich Trantham, shortstop; Willie Green, third basemn, and Ray Vuillenainroy, pitcher.

Lowell Creighton, another Jeff whiz in the 1950s, who later pitched for the San Francisco Seals, somehow got away from Brisbane. He'll be hurling for the 2400 club.

Each league's four clubs will play a 10 game round robin schedule, playing the teams in their division twice, and the teams in the other division once. The winners of the divisions will then meet each other for the league championship in a post season three-game series.

For those of you wishing to indulge in both a little nostalgia and a possible previewing of future stars, Marchbank on a Sunday afternoon might be the answer.

SPEAKING of fighting traffic jams en route to Candlestick, the worst jams seem to take place inside the parking lot.

To begin with, you have to pay the 75 cents fee to get into the lot even if the Giants are away and you're merely picking up tickets at the box office for the next series.

They'll also take your 75 cents even if the lot is filled. They post no signs. Once in, you're on your own.

I guess, though, about the worst feature of Candlestick is the inaccessibility of the plumbing facilities. A man who failed to get in line fast enough for a ticket to the second game of the last Giant-Dodger series offered a gate guard a hundred dollars as security if the guard would allow him to use the nearby men's room inside the gate.

The guard, following the letter of The Book; refused. How inhuman can one get?

While on the subject of injustice, what about Juan Marichal's "lost" two-hitter against the Cards last week?

Billy Hoeft relieves, makes an error to let the tying run in, pitches to one more batter and gets credit for the victory.

Even Don Larson, who pitched the ninth inning flawlessly, deserved the win more than Hoeft.

But that involves only a poor rule.

What compelled Alvin, however, to pull Marichal with a late inning two-hitter going when, the the very next day, Jack Sanford was battered for five straight hits before he was yanked, as was Jim Duffalo earlier in the week?

Maybe it was Alvin's way of punishing Sanford and Duffalo.

I UNDERSTAND that Bob St. Clair did a very effective job of lobbying in behalf of the Cow Palace annexation a few weeks ago in Sacramento.

I don't see how those legislators could very well have refused him. He's one guy who really does, literally, carry a lot of weight.

IT'S STRANGE how Arnold Palmer, a year ago acclaimed by most golfing experts as the greatest whiz of all time, is suddenly washed up because he hasn't won a major tournament for a while.

Some day — if you're mathematically inclined — sit down and juggle a few figures, like how many professional golfers there are in the world, and how many tournaments exist.

I think you'll find it miraculous that any individual pro ever wins even one major tournament.

Sure, Palmer's washed up. So's Willie Mays.

Two Pennants in a Row!

FOURTH OF JULY ACTION

D.C. Intermediate All Stars Bow to SSF; PAL Giants, Dodgers Defeated

Closely-contested games highlighted action in annual Fourth of July all star baseball games last week, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Action saw a Daly City Intermediate league club defeated by an all star San Francisco team, 10-4; the Midget-American league all stars down the league leading PAL Giants, 7 to 3; the OLM Leopards down the Midget-National all stars, 10-7 and the PAL Tigers bow to the Junior league all stars, 7-5.

Here is a roundup of the all star game action:

INTERMEDIATE

Daly City's Fourth of July celebration was marred somewhat by the defeat of the Daly City Intermediate all stars by the South San Francisco Intermediate all stars at Westlake park by a sore of 10 to 4.

Credit for the win goes to the pitching of three South San Francisco hurlers, John Coulter, Greg MacKinnon and Bill Godkin.

Coulter allowed the Daly City boys only singles by Russ Runge and Russ Kerger.

MacKinnon was a little more liberal as he gave up three hits and one run. Mike Dowdle, Wayne Stienert and Joe Anibale accounted for three singles with Dolan.

Bill Godkin gave up only one hit, a single to Dowdle, but that single accounted for two RBIs. Bob Collins and Larry Nonanni scored on Mike's single. Dowdle then proceeded to steal second, third and finally home to score the last Daly City run.

Godkin retired the rest of the batters in order.

Rock Kubowitz coached Daly City while Al Jones guided South City.

MIDGET-AMERICAN

The American league midget all-stars celebrated the Fourth of July by defeating the league-leading PAL Giants, 7 to 3.

After two scoreless innings, all star batter Don Gordon (OLM) beat out a well placed bunt. Tom Denning (OLPH) chased him home with a double to right center. After Tom Scott (Holy Angels) hit a single, Ed Schweitzer of OLPH unloaded a three-run homer, putting the all stars ahead, 4-0.

Gar Thompkins (BYA, George Harrison) and Paul Glichinski (OLM) collaborated to shut out the PAL Giants for four innings.

In the fifth inning the PAL Giants broke into the scoring column on hits by Herb Aceituno and Steve Manis.

Tom Neary (OLPH) then retired six straight PAL Giant batters.

The all stars collected two insurance runs in the sixth inning on a walk, a hard hit triple by Fred Balletto, (PAL Redsox) and a single by Dave Martin (OLM).

The PAL Giants scored another run in the seventh inning on an error, a sacrifice bunt and a single by Dave Pinelli.

The all stars scored their final marker in the eighth on singles by Fred Balletto and Doug Matgen of Holy Angels.

The PAL Giants bounced back in the eighth to score a lone tally on a triple by Don Shotts, followed by a second all star error.

Chuck McGuigan and Joe Cordera handled coaching chores for the All Stars while Cornell Glichinski pitched for the Tigers.

Bob Kramer was the All Star coach.

MIDGET-NATIONAL

Al Antraccoli's league-leading Our Lady of Mercy Leopards and Les Bastedo's National Division All Stars fought a dandy seesaw battle at Marchbanks park July 4.

To celebrate the national holiday, the teams traded the lead three times before the Leopards won out, 10-7.

The All Stars collected 9 hits off three Leopard hurlers. Three pitchers also shared mound chores for the All Stars and allowed the Leopards 12 hits.

JUNIOR

George Pedroni's mighty PAL Tigers fell before the determined onslaught of the Junior league All Stars, 7-5. Ron Mini and Marv Smith gave the All Stars the edge. They shared mound chores with Mike Chelone.

Chelone had trouble finding the plate and through his wildness and three hits, the Tigers scored their only runs. Ron Mini and Marv Smith gave up one hit each to Tiger batters.

Bob Nolan, Alan Stanley, Telvis Jones and Duane Morin pitched for the Tigers.

Krnich Hurls 2nd Shutout; Saints Nip Jeff

Excellent pitching dominated Sunday's play in the Tri-City Summer Baseball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Paced by the shutout pitching of Mike Krnich, his second straight shutout, the Westmoor BYA nine edged a tough South Sunset A C club, 1-0, in eight innings of play at Marchbanks park.

Consecutive singles by Jim Duport, Bob Brodie and Karl Fleischauer in the bottom of the eighth knotched the hardearned victory for Krnich. He had 13 strikeouts save up 6 hits.

South Sunset third sacker Gary Tanner paced his club with three hits and started a key double play that sent the game into extra innings.

Danny Santos' six hit pitching wasn't quite enough as the South Sunset club lost their second one run game of league play.

Getting the big hit when they needed it was the story of the San Francisco Saints' 3-1 victory over previously undefeated Jefferson AC Saturady.

Elliott Barthemew's timely single batted in the winning and insurance runs for the Excelsior district club.

Jim Weber's four-hit hurling and the all around play of his club were instrumental in the win.

George Egan's three-hit pitching and Dan Caffaretta's and Frank King's hitting were not enough to stave off defeat.

Sunday's top game will feature a battle between the two undefeated clubs, Westmoor BYA and the San Francisco Saints AC at Marchbanks park at 12:30 p.m.

Summer Cage League

A high school summer basketball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, will begin play Tuesday night.

Two eight-team divisions are planned. A round robin shcedule will be played Tuesday and Thursday evenings in both the War Memorial Community center and the gymnasium of Westmoor High schools.

An unusual system of determining division standings will be used on a trial basis this summer.

The team winning each game will receive five points and the losers will receive a fraction of this, which will depend on the final score.

Losing teams will receive: four points for a 1 to 3-run loss; three points for a 4 to 6-run loss; two points for a 7 to 9-run loss; 1 point for a 10 to 12-run loss; a half point for losing by more than 12 runs and no points for a forfeit.

The new system will be tried to encourage better competition and participation, Recreation department officials said.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

SINCE WE are all busy these days with vacation plans and taking the children to swimming lessons and baseball practice, I thought another idea for a quickie dish might be good.

This recipe comes from San Diego and was mailed to me by Mrs. Mary Weitzel of San Diego.

SPOONED HAMBURGERS

2 slices of bacon, cut up
1 onion, diced
1 lb. ground meat
3 tbsp. prepared mustard
3 tbsp. catsup
1 can chicken gumbo soup

Brown the bacon with the diced onions, add the ground meat and brown lightly. Add mustard, catsup, chicken gumbo soup and simmer about 15 minutes or until not too moist. Can be made ahead of time and reheated (tastes better after it stands, says Mary). Serve on rice or open-faced heated rolls. Serves four.

WITH THE children home and all the picnics and such I thought perhaps some cookie recipes might come in handy. These candy-cookies will be a real treat with your children.

CANDY-COOKIES

1 small package butterscotch morsels
½ cup crunch peanut butter
3 cups rice crispies or corn flakes

Melt together in top of double boiler over warm, not boiling water, the morsels and peanut butter. Pour in the rice crispies or corn flakes. Drop on waxed paper. Refrigerate to set.

ORANGE PECAN ICEBOX COOKIES

1 cup butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup pecans, crushed or chopped
1 egg
2⅝ CUPS FLOUR
teaspoon baking soda
2 tbsp. orange juice

Cream butter. Add sugars, egg and orange juice. Beat until smooth. Sift together flour and soda, stir into first mixture. Add nuts. Shape into rolls two inches in diameter and wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Slice very thin and bake in 375-degree oven for eight to 10 minutes. Makes six dozen cookies.

AND JUST to finish I'll share with you a delicious and easy way to fancy up your corn bread muffins.

SNEAKY GOOD CORN BREAD

1 package corn bread mix
1 cup raw grated carrots
1 tsp. brown sugar

Make up the corn bread according to directions on box. Just before turning batter into pan or muffin tins, fold in the grated carrots and brown sugar. The carrots and sugar add color and flavor and make it more moist—and it's a delightful way to work in more vitamins.

California Film Is League Project

Have any old pictures of California from 1848-1865?

"California and the Civil War" will be a color motion picture documentary co-presented by the Palo Alto unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., and Stanford university.

Initially, the film is being donated to the audio-visual departments of the San Mateo and Santa Clara county school systems and will be available for 468 schools.

In charge of production will be members of the Palo Alto unit and Lee Mendelson Film Productions of Burlingame, with faculty members and officials of Stanford university acting in an advisory capacity.

Although the film will deal with California from the time of the Gold Rush in 1848 through the end of the Civil War in 1865, it will concentrate chiefly on the 1861-1863 period . . . when such men as William Chapman Ralston were building San Francisco . . . when Theodore Judah and the "Big Four" were starting ocnstruction of the Central Pacific Railroad . . . when California itself teetered as to which way to turn, to the North or to the South, in the Civil War.

Those most actively participating from Stanford university are: Professor of history, Donald E. Fehrenbacher, Ph.D.; associate professor of education, G. Wesley Sowards, Ph.D.; and associate director of university relations, Leo E. Geier.

Writing, producing, and directing the film will be Lee Mendelson, who, before forming his own company, wrote and produced many film documentaries for KPIX-TV, including the Peabody award winning San Simeon and the Bridge-builders.

Members of the Palo Alto unit of the Junior League of San Francisco will be conducting research in historical societies, libraries, etc. throughout the state, collecting "still photographs" and written accounts of this period.

Head of the film project is Mrs. Derk K. Hunter of Atherton and technical advisor is Mrs. Charles A. Black of Woodside.

Any individuals with photographs from this period interested in making them available for the film should write to "California and the Civil War Film," Post Office Box 212, Menlo Park, Calif.

Rehabilitation Career Workers Are in Demand

Officers of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo county point out there are many opportunities for college students in finding a career in rehabilitation of the physically handicapped.

St. George Lafitte, of Menlo Park, president of the county's Easter Seal society, which operates the largest rehabilitation center of its type in the Bay Area at 1764 Marco Polo way, Burlingame, said that thousands of young men and women are needed for lifetime careers in one of the newest and fastest growing fields related to medicine. In citing rewards of working with the crippled, he said:

"The rehabilitation field offers the prestige of belonging to a recognized profession, it insures job security in a profession that is always in demand, and supplies satisfaction of helping where service is so badly needed."

Information on these opportunities, including college scholarships may be obtained from Charles M. Stern, executive director, Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 1764 Marco Polo way, Burlingame.

A new free booklet, "Your Future — A Career in Rehabilitation," will be sent upon request.

IT IS not too early to make your reservations to attend the first annual Holy Angels Parish picnic scheduled August 4 at the Little Hills Ranch near Hayward.

General chairman of the picnic, Gino Manicci, has urged parishioners to phone PL 6-3865 or PL 5-4335 to reserve tickets as the number of persons admitted will be limited so amusement facilities will not be over crowded.

Tickets will be sold to single adults for $1 each. Families of three or fewer members will receive a ticket admitting all for $2. A ticket admitting a family of four or more members will cost $2.50.

Planned activities include softball games, horseshoes, swimming, races, bingo and a pie eating contest, Manicci announced.

Helping the general chairman with the arrangements are Edmund Texeirea, ticket chairman; Richard Hornung, finance director and John Oliver, entertainment committee head. Leslie K. Moran and Earl Cesena will be in charge of bingo games and Leslie O'Callahan will arrange transportation on chartered buses for anyone making the necessary reservations for such service.

HOME AGAIN after a week enjoying country living in the hills behind Redwood City is the family of Stephen Lombardi.

Stephen and Barbara, along with children Denise, 5, Steve, 6, and little Kenny, 6 months old, were the guests of Lombardi's grandparents who have owned a lovely wooded tract of land since long before the land boom hit the Peninsula and made such places a rarity.

NEIGHBORS and friends were happy to learn that the Wallace Hobson family, who recently made the newspapers when Mrs. Hobson's brother-in-law L. Gordon Cooper made his historical space flight, will not be leaving Daly City.

Early in June, Hobson was notified by his company that he might be sent to Kansas City, Kan., and the family made preparations to move. Final word, now, from the company is that no move is imminent, much to everyone's relief.

TURMOIL in the Vincent Murphy household had a gay flavor last month!

Beginning with Fathers' Day June 16, the Murphy's have been celebrating one thing or another ever since.

Murphy acknowledged the passing of another year June 17 and youthful daughter Peggy added another year to her age Monday. Saturday, Alice Murphy, a niece, will be married in St. Gabriel's Catholic church in San Francisco to Eugene Neideffer while her cousin John helps serve the mass.

Following their honeymoon, the Neideffer's will become Daly City residents when they move into a home on Foothill boulevard.

D.C. Youth Lauds Peace Corps Work

An improved American image in South America has been described by Gerald McMahon son of Mrs. Earl McMahon, 6 Clearview drive, Daly City, who has returned from two years of hard work in Columbia.

A 26-year-old international relations major at San Francisco State when he joined, McMahon is the first Bay Area Peace Corps volunteer.

He is seriously considering accepting another assignment in Latin America, either as an asspciate project director or as a consultant with the Corps' training program in Mexico.

He said he considers his past duty tour the most rewarding period in his life. He believes the Peace Corps has "opened up whole new horizons in the field of personal, friendly understanding" in South America.

McMahon said that Peace Corpsmen living and working among South Americans has eliminated many misconceptions about the people of the United States.

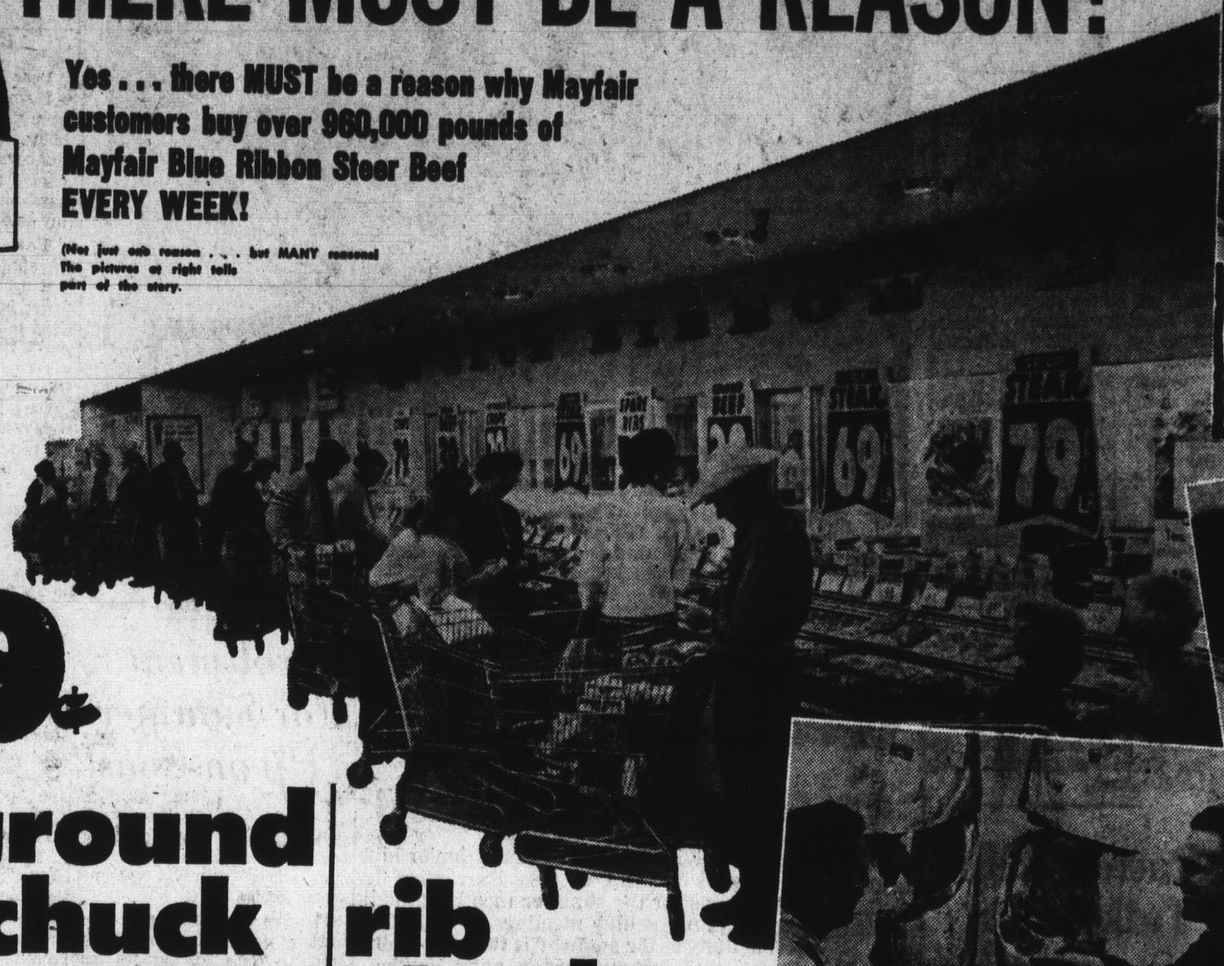
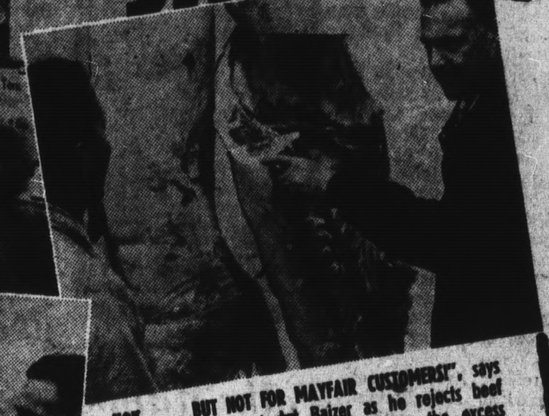
THERE MUST BE A REASON!

Yes . . . there MUST be a reason why Mayfair customers buy over 960,000 pounds of Mayfair Blue Ribbon Steer Beef EVERY WEEK!

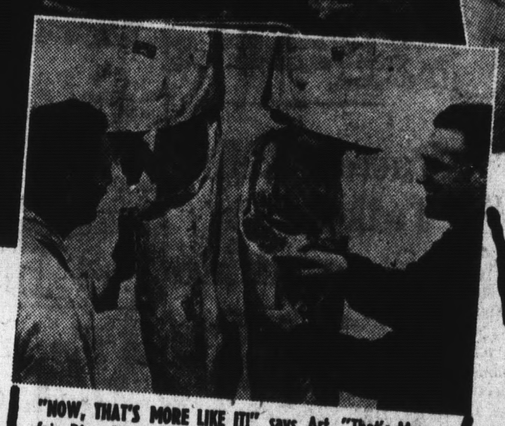
(Not just one reason . . . but MANY reasons! The pictures at right tells part of the story.



ONLY THE BEST IS GOOD ENOUGH for Mayfair's famous Blue Ribbon Stamp! It's all individually selected from White-Faced Hereford Steers, scientifically pen-fed to produce beef that measures up to Mayfair's rigid specifications for eating quality.



"OK . . . BUT NOT FOR MAYFAIR CUSTOMERS!", says Mayfair Meat Expert Art Baizer as he rejects beef from an "over-finished" steer. Notice the excess amount of fat and waste in proportion to the lean . . . fat and waste you'd have to trim off and throw away! Money out of your food budget!



"NOW, THAT'S MORE LIKE IT!" says Art. "That's Mayfair Blue Ribbon Steer Beef . . . leaner, with more juicy red meat in proportion to bone and fat! Lower Cholestrol content. Better eating, better flavor, better value! Here's beef we can back with Mayfair's DOUBLE-YOUR-MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!"

The best for less! Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Steer Beef!

A BUSY SCHEDULE

Teen Clubs Plan Summer Program

A program of activities for members of junior high teen clubs, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, is scheduled for the summer months in addition to the regular semi-monthly meetings of each club.

Featured activity of the summer is the inter-club "socko" league that began Monday night on the Colma school diamonds.

Each of the six clubs has entered one team each in the boys' and girls' divisions of this league, which is a modification of softball.

A swimming party at Jefferson High school August 5 will follow the games.

A roller skating party after the games August 22, will be held at Rollerland and a barbeque at Junipero Serra Park will conclude the socko season the last night of play, August 12.

These activities are open to all junior teen club members and their guests on a sign up basis.

An end-of-summer beach party will culminate the joint opportunity for new seventh grade pupils to become acquainted with the junior teen club program.

Regular meetings of the clubs are held Friday nights from 7 to 9 and feature a variety of activities—including contests, games, dancing and movies.

Sites and dates of the club meetings are:

First and third Fridays — Casualiers, Colma upper school multi-sue room; Imperials, War Memorial Community center; Masjestics, Lincoln Park clubhouse.

Second and fourth Fridays — Westlake Swingers, Westlake Park clubhouse; Roof Raisers, Ben Franklin school multi-use room; Telstars, Abraham Lincoln multi-use room.

New seventh grade students are welcome as guests to the August activities and meetings and will be eligible ofr membership in September.

In addition to these activities, some of the individual clubs are planning special outings and events for their members.

The Casualiers have a trip scheduled to the California Rodeo in Salinas July 26.

A Reminder About Cards

The Social Security administration has reminded high school seniors entering work careers and students seeking only summer jobs that it's time to apply for Social Security cards.

"Most jobs, including temporary summer work, are covered by Social Security," an official said. "Since many employers won't let people start to work without first seeing their Social Security cards, and there is sometimes a delay before the cards can be issued, we advise the students to apply in advance.

Applications for the cards can be obtained at the Social Security district office at 761 South Van Ness avenue in San Francisco. They are also available at all local post offices where they can be completed and mailed to the nearest Social Security district office.

They are also advised to notify the Social Security office in the event of a lost card or change of name, and to ask for a statement of their earnings under Social Security every three years, to be sure all earnings have been credited.

Temple Judea Service Slated

Temple Judea will hold its regular Sabbath Evening services at 8:30 Friday night at the temple at 95 South Mayfair avenue, Westlake. Rabbi Herbert Morris will officiate.

Mrs. Abe Ight will act as hostess for an Oneg Shabbat (social) after the services in honor of Mrs. Harry Tauber, retiringpresregion.

Fire Damages Empty House

Daly City firemen doused a fire in an empty house at 131 Santa Barbara avenue last Tuesday afternoon.

Authorities said the fire might have been started by children playing in the house.

The fire damaged the rear of the attic and roof of the house.

Enrollment For Summer Up on Coast

A total of 778 Pacifica youngsters, 250 more than last year, have enrolled in the Laguna Salada school district's summer school session.

The five week term opened last week at Linda Mar and Pacific Manor schools for grades one through seven. Principal is Roy Carver, regularly principal of Westview school.

Carver said that this year no distinction is being made among youngsters who are achieving marks above or below their regular grade level. All youngsters were accepted for summer school, he said, on a first come-first serve basis.

In a four-hour program, 8:30 to 12:30, the first, second and third grade students receive supplementary instruction in reading, arithmetic, language skills and social studies.

The upper primary grades have one hour for reading and language arts, one for mathematics and one for an elective subject.

Elective subjects this year include science, creative writing, art, literature and music.

There are 24 teachers in the Laguna Salada summer session. An open house will be held during the last week before school closes August 2.

Carver said the biggest problem of the summer session is maintaining attendance to meet state loan requirements. Holidays and family vacations keep children from attending classes regularly, he said.

WINDOW BROKEN

Harry E. Burns of 126 Santa Cruz avenue reported to Daly City police last week that someone had fired a BB through a window of his residence.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 14½ years old and I have a chance for a lot of dates, but my mother says the boys can't take me in their cars. I must go with her. She says she will drive me and my date and pick us up.

I date nice boys and they are 16 and have driver's licenses, but my mom says that the answer is no car. Please help me and tell her that there are nice boys. Help.

Little Miss Blue

Dear Miss Blue:

You are right. There are nice boys who drive and drive safe. In fact, I would rather drive with a teen-ager than those crazy adult running around loose on the streets. Your mother should be told of the excellent driver training and education programs for teen-agers now being taught in high schools.

The ratio of accidents among teen-agers is not as bad as some adults make it seem.

California Highway Patrol statistics show that 16 and 17 year olds are safer drivers and have fewer accicents and citations than the 18 and 19 year olds. The older the teen-ager, the higher the percentage of accidents. These are 18 and 19 year olds who work .

Therefore, it's not the high school teen-ager who is the problem, but the old teen-ager who is working and can afford to soup up his car and can afford to speed up the engine etc.

You see a 16 and 17 year old who is still in school and who is driving the family car and generally has had driver's education (and is probably a safer driver, has quicker reflexes and keener eyes) therefore being more alert than an adult in his later years.

There is a new law in our state waiting to be signed by the governor, changing the age for driver's licenses to 18 rather than the present 16 years of age. This in my opinion, is ridiculous for many reasons:

1. If the law is passed, will it help? No, because there will be the same problems with the 18 and 19 year olds. So what has been solved?

2. You delay the young safe driver from two years of driving experience because, like in learning to swim, you first must get into the water. True also in driving.

You must drive a car, you can't learn to swim from a book nor can you learn to drive without getting behind the wheel.

3. The few 16 year olds who are driving badly and are getting in trouble certainly are not the type to let a law like this stand in their way if they are driving.

This will only be another law they are breaking along with speeding etc. All it will do is delay the good teen-age driver.

I am told that 18 and 19 year olds are more responsible drivers and that is why the state is changing the age law. Perhaps our friends in Sacramento should read their own statistics.

Needless to say, all 18 and 19 year old drivers are not all bad drivers, that is not my point. I am merely saying that a change of age does not solve the problem. Rather, it will add to it.

What is the answer: Driver's education taught in every high school to every student. Driving is no longer a luxury. It has become in today's world a necessity.

Our state spends millions of dollars a year on a lot less important issues than the driving safet yand accident prevention.

As was pointed out in 35 studies in the United States, people who have had driver's education in high school or proper driving trining courses, have an extremely low percentage of accidents and citations.

And state leaders who are not always looking for an answer rather the source of the problem would be a help.

Teen-agers! If you have problems or questions you'd like discussed, you may send them to me, care of The Post, 30 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, or to Joe Bavaresco, Camp Meeker, Calif.

By DON MILLER

THERE'S A MADCAP disease that seems to be sweeping the country these days. It's a malady for which there is no known cure and even if there were, it probably would be ignored by the ailing.

It's called railroaditis or steam locomotivitis or what have you and it's a sickness that pervades all strata of society, the young and the old and both sexes.

Self-appointed doctors have tried to analyze this plague without consistent results. That is, every researcher seems to have come up with his own idea of what's behind the disease.

Railroaditis, we should hasten to explain here, may ronghly be described as an addiction — akin to cigarettes, gin and gambling — that monster of yesterday, the steam locomotive and its nostalgic whistle.

Since there aren't too many of these monsters around any more, the ailment also can be defined as including a strong penchant for anything on rails — even, in some cases, the ordinary city streetcar.

The malady today has afflicted so many of the populace that the stricken have banded together and formed hundreds of railroad societies throughout the country.

These dedicated groups sponsor a pot pourri of excursions every year to every nook and cranny of the countryside that a locomotive can reach.

As can be expected, each time an honest-to-goodness old-time steam engine can be secured for an excursion, the outing takes on a special air and the ailing are subjected to special treatment.

Here on the West Coast, the number of these groups appears to be growing each year.

Since there are only so many operating railroads around to serve the afflicted, many excursions these days are sponsored by an amalgamation of several clubs.

FOR EXAMPLE, what's shaping up August 4 as one of the best trips of the year for the time and expense involved will be sponsored by no less than five groups.

The rail safari we speak of is an old-time railroad picnic and excursion from both San Francisco and Oakland to San Jose and then south to Felton, deep in the beautiful redwood country of Santa Cruz county.

This trip is being sponsored by (and take a deep breath here) the Bay Area Electric Railroad association, the California-Nevada Railroad Historical society, the Central Coast Railway club, the Northern California Railroad club and the Pacific Coast Chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical society.

In Felton, the ailing will board what is fast becoming a major tourist attraction in this part of the state — the (and take another deep breath here) Roaring Camp and Big Trees Narrow-Gauge railroad.

This reminder of another day is centered around an antique narrow-gauge steam locomotive, resurrected recently from what had intended to be its final resting place in West Virginia.

To date, the Roaring Camp doesn't have a very loud roar for the management has laid down only about a mile of track. Eventually, however, the afflicted will be able to ride some ten miles round trip through the redwoods.

Now like any railroad worth its rails, the Roaring Camp has a route slogan for its principal — and only —line. Management proudly calls it "The Grizzly Bear Route—Through the Redwoods."

And, appropriately, the slogan is embodied with a picture of a grizzly that looks, by the way, as though it couldn't care less about steam locomotives and the related malaise.

THE EXCURSION to Felton typifies the sort of outing that seems to be most popular with railroaditis sufferers here in the West.

The one or two-day excursions always are run on weekends and thus don't involve calling in sick to the office during the week.

For when you stop to think of it, the boss probably wouldn't quite understand a call from an employe who said he was ailing and had been ordered onto the rails for treatment.

For the really seriously afflicted, a number of clubs also run at least one big recuperative excursion a year — usually involving a week or two.

The idea here is to take your vacation, buy your ticket and be off for what often amounts to several thousand miles of treatment.

One of the most ambitious such sorties this year is being conducted starting Labor Day, by one of the clubs involved in the Roaring Camp trip, the Pacific Coast chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical society.

This organization obviously knows how to treat railroaditis for members have prescribed an excursion medicine that includes eight railroads and will take the ailing over 6500 miles.

Nearly a thousand miles of this will comprise intensive care for this is the distance excursionists will ride on narrow gauge railroads or behind the monsters that still belch steam.

Highpoint of the trip, it's generally agreed, will be a visit to Silverton, Colo. for a ride on the last common-carrier, narrow-gauge passenger train operating in the United States.

The railroad, which takes its name from the old Colorado mining town, runs between Silverton and Durango through the Canyon of Lost Souls.

It's a 45-mile ride but because of the grades involved from Durango to Silverton, the train gains more than half a mile in altitude) the trip takes three and a half hours.

After Colorado, convalescents will be treated to a day-long ride behind the Burlington Route's famed old Number 5632 saved at the 11th hour some time ago from the acetylene torch.

This ride from Denver to Omaha, of course, promises to provide considerable relief to the patients for old Number 5632 was one of the last giant steam locomotives built to haul passenger trains and as such, represents the end of an era in railroading.

The excursion gets back in San Francisco Sept. 15 and by that time, it's presumed, participants will have received sufficient treatment for their railroaditis to resume the daily routine.

Just when the next attack of the disease will occur can't be predicted exaxtly but generally, the affliction returns at about the time another excusion is ready to roll.

A five-year gardening concontract, calling for $1250 a month expenditure for maintenance of the vegetable life on the district school grounds, was awarded to Abby Homestead Nursery of Daly City.

A certificate of acceptance and grant deed were dispatched to the State Department of Architecture in Sacramento pertaining to the Fairmont school site on the Doelger subdivision at the north end of the district.

The school construction job will go to bid when these documents are processed and returned.

In routine business, the board canvassed the bond and loan election of two weeks ago, with the $600,000 school bond issue officially being counted at 1154 yes votes, 362 no.

The $6 million state loan authorization was tallied at 1128 yes, 369 no.

The board also will keep its same meeting schedule for the next year—8 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at the school district office in Vallemar.

Canoe Tips, Girl Drowns

A 13-year-old Daly City girl drowned last Wednesday in the Russian river when the canoe in which she and three other children were riding was tipped over by a pair of playful swimmers.

The victim was Veronica Tomlinson of 457 St. Francis boulevard. Sonoma county sheriff's deputies, investigating the tragedy, said two frolicking boys rocked the canoe carrying the children until it tipped over.

The other children were rescued quickly but Veronica, a non-swimmer, sank swiftly. Deputies recovered the body with a drag line.

The accident occurred near Rio Nido.

HURT IN FALL

DESPITE HALL CLOSING

County Fair Will Be Held

San Mateo County Fair directors last week decided to go ahead with this year's fair and floral fiesta even though they must abandon the main building.

Meeting in an emergency session after the Fiesta building was condemned by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday, they decided to concentrate on the floral part of the fair despite the likelihood they will have to move it and perhaps condense it.

Fair Manager Bill Wilson offered a plan whereby commercial exhibitors would be moved out of one of the twin industrial buildings and put into a tent adjacent to the carnival grounds.

The interior flower exhibits then would be moved into the industrial building. The outdoor garden show would be moved two industrial buildings.

Ed LeVesconte, president of the fair board, suggested that both buildings be cleared of industrial exhibits and used for flowers.

Director Anthony Gaggero agreed. LeVesconte said the commercial exhibitors from the second industrial building could be moved into a second tent located north of the locomotive.

These plans would take care of most of the flower exhibits, but still would leave the problem of re-locating the art show and the catering services which formerly occupied the wings of the Fiesta building.

Manager Wilson said he had talked with the caterer and the art association and both had promised 100 per cent co-operation.

The Fiesta Dream Girl contest, scheduled for July 18, will be held in the Industrial building as planned.

County Building Director Henry Tarartt told the directors that the Fiesta building would have to be surrounded by a safety fence at least 10 feet out from the sides and 20 feet from the ends.

Wilson pointed out that this would mean almost total elimination of the south end of the fairgrounds.

LeVesconte stated, "I don't think we want to sacrifice anything. We will put the flower show on first and let everything else follow."

The huge hall, built in 1948 at a cost of nearly $250,000, was ordered closed by the board of supervisors after a San Francisco engineer reported that the building is unsafe.

Chili Con Carne Snack A Fun Food

Fun-foods are by all statistics those being enjoyed the most by people throughout the country. Showing full versatility, fun-foods today are not just used for before and between meal snacks, for which they are perfect, but can and are used as ingredients in a host of different types of basically familiar family dishes.

Now for your summer entertaining indoors or out, here are two new recipes for 1963 prepared and tested by the home economists. Cheddar flavored corn puffs are in both easy to prepare dishes for serving at lunch, dinner or supper.

CHILI CON CARNE
Served on Tasty Cheddar Flavored Corn Puffs

2 tablespoons salad oil
¼ cup minced onion
½ small green pepper, diced
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon black pepper
½ pound ground lean chuck
1 8-ounce can vegetable juice cocktail
2 to 3 teaspoons Chili powder
1 1-pound can red kidney beans
1 6-ounce package cheddar flavored corn puffs (family size)

Heat oil in a 2-quart saucepan. Brown onion and green pepper lightly in hot oil. Add salt, garlic powder, pepper and ground beef. Cook stirring, until beef is broken into small pieces. Add vegetable juice, and Chili powder to taste. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. And beans and heat. Serve on corn puffs. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

PROTEIN NEEDS

People used to think they should cut down on protein foods when the weather turned hot. Nutritionists tell us that this is definitely not a good practice. Meat supplies the right kind of complete proteins needed by the body for life processes that go on every day, whether the season is summer or winter.

CAESAR SALAD
With Cheddar Flavored Corn Puffs

1 small clove garlic
2 quarts crisp salad greens
¼ cup olive or salad oil
3 tablespoons cider vinegar or lemon juice
½ teaspoon crushed oregano
1 tablespoon minced chives
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoons sugar
1 raw egg
1 cup corn puffs

Rub a salad bowl with the cut garlic. Wash greens. Dry them between paper towels and break them into bite-size pieces. Combine olive oil, vinegar, oregano chives, salt, pepper and sugar. Arange greens in the prepared salad bowl. Pour dressing over. Break the egg into the greens and toss the salad until all traces of the egg have disappeared. Add corn puffs and toss again. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

And for just plain snack use, the same tasty-crunchey corn puffs can go with the beverage course — before, during or after the meal, or as croutons with soups.

Marinades, Sauces Add Proper Zip

One way of giving zip to your charcoal grill masterpieces is the use of special sauces and marinades. What a luscious flavor and crispy brown crust they add!

Marinades and sauces vary from mild to highly seasoned, but they should not mask the natural meat flavor, states meat expert Reba Staggs. Marinades are thinner, generally more highly seasoned and have less oil. However, the same sauce can serve as both a marinade and a basting sauce.

Prepare basting sauces at your leisure and keep on hand in the refrigerator. For spreading on meat a heavy brush or narrow paint brush is handy. Some sauces may also be served as accompaniments.

Sauces with sugar or tomato should be used with quick-cooking meats or spread on during the last half hour. Otherwise, they tend to burn.

With pork chops, ribs and most roasts, sauces with less fat are best. Tomato-y barbecue sauces are delicious, as are fruit sauces.

For lamb chops and kabobs, try an oily sauce or marinade, and a touch of garlic is nice. For beef, barbecue-type sauces fairly rich in oil with plenty of good seasonings go well.

The long cooking of rotisserie roasts with relatively little natural fat covering makes oily basting sauces desirable.

Tart Barbecue Sauce combines 1 cup soy sauce, 1 cup salad oil, ¾ cup lemon juice and 1 clove garlic, cut in half. Use as a marinade, tool.

A tasty kabob marinade blends ½ cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Leftover Beef Finds Way Into Salad

Where does leftover beef go in the summertime? Why, into the most refreshing kind of a main dish . . . a meat salad, of course!

Meat salads keep both you and your kitchen cool and calm while providing your family with a completely satisfying entree. The meat supplies the high-quality protein so necessary every day, whether the weather outside is 19 degrees or 90 degrees.

When the temperature soars, you'll enjoy this particularly appealing and hearty salad prepared from cooked beef. It's all made without the aid of your range. If you haven't the cooked potatoes and green beans in your refrigerator, you can simply use canned items.

Reba Staggs, meat authority, offers a few tips on meat care. Refrigerate leftober meats promptly, and store them tightly covered. They should be used within about 3 days.

HEARTY BEEF SALAD

2 cups diced cooked beef
½ cup French dressing
½ cup diced cooked potatoes
½ cup cooked green beans
½ cup coarsely grated carrots
¼ cup chopped sweet pickle
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
4 to 6 lettuce cups

Pour French dressing over beef cubes and chill 1 hour or longer. Chill remaining ingredients. Combine beef-French dressing mixture, carrots, potatoes, green beans, pickles and hard-cooked eggs. Add mayonnaise or salad dressing and mix lightly. Serve in lettuce cups. 4 to 6 servings.

A Graham Cracker Pie Is Popular

Here's the graham cracker pie crust we like to use with summer's chilled creamy fruit pies.

GRAHAM CRACKER NUT CRUST

1 cup pacakged graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup chopped (medium coarse) walnuts
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted

Mix together the crumbs, walnuts and melted butter. Press evenly over bottom and sides of a 9-inch heat-resistant glass pie plate; have crumbs come up to but not over rim. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 8 minutes. Cool before filling.

Cakelike Brownies Enjoyable

Enjoy cakelike, moist brownies with chocolatey flavor? Here's your recipe!

Cheeseburgers on Toasted Buns
French Fried Potatoes with
Chili Sauce
Salad Bowl
Watermelon Snowy Brownies

SNOWY BROWNIES

2 square (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
¾ CUP SUGAR
¼ cup dark corn syrup
½ cup sifted flour
½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts
Confectioners sugar

In a heavy medium-sized saucepan over very low heat melt the chocolate and butter; remove the chocolate and butter; remove from heat; mixture should be warm, not hot. Add eggs, sugar and corn syrup; beat with a rotary beater (hand or electric) until combined. Turn into a buttered baking pan (11 by 7 by 2 inches); bake in a moderate (350 degrees) over 20 minutes or until top is set. Place on wire rack until cool; cut into squares or bars; remove carefully with a spatula. Store in tightly covered container. Just before serving, roll in confectioners sugar.

ROTISSERIE ROASTS

For the rotisserie, it's best to select roasts which are as regular in shape as possible. Semi-boneless, boneless or boned and tied roasts are good. Roasts with bones generally do not balance well on the rotisserie rod.

SUMMER LEFTOVERS

What is the best manner of serving leftover meats in the summer? Cut the chilled meat into cubes or strips and feature a cold meat salad as your main entree on a hot evening. Combine the meat with fresh vegetables or fruits and a dressing. Ready-to-serve meats are also delicious in meat salads.

GRILLING FOR A CROWD

Roasts, ground meat patties and frankfruters are convenient for serving a large group unless facilities for grilling are extensive. Roasts provide more servings per unit of cooking space. Meat patties and franks will cook in a short time.

A Creole Shrimp Salad Recipe Idea

The dressing for this salad is patterned after a popular New Orleans recipe.

Jellied Madrilene
Caraway Crackers
Creole Shrimp Salad Rolls
Fresh Fruit Beverage

CREOLE SHRIMP SALAD

1½ pounds medium-size shrimp (cooked, shelled and deveined)
1-3 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons garlic-flavored wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons prepared mustard (preferably Dijon-type)
1 cup finely diced celery
1-3 cup finely diced (4 small) scallions with green tops included
¼ cup minced parsley
Lettuce and tomatoes
Cucumbers or radishes

Slice shrimp in half lengthwise. With a fork beat together thoroughly the oil, vinegar. salt, paprika, and mustard; mix in celery, scallions and parsley. Arrange lettuce, tomato and cucumber or radishes on a serving plate with shrimp in center; pour sauce over shrimp. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Sauce may be made ahead, covered tightly, and refrigerated fot an hour or longer to blend flavors.

FOR SMOKE FLAVOR

To give an especially enticing smoke flavor to grilled meats use wood chips such as hickory, oak, apple and cherry. Soak chips in water at least 1 hour before using so they will give maximum smoke and will not burn. Add a few chips at a time to the charcoal briquets while cooking. If chips flame up, replace them with wet ones.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef Sirloin Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the sirloin section of the beef loin and this one contains a portion of the hip bone. The various steaks have wide variation in bone and muscle structure.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By broiling, or panbroiling. To broil, place steak on broiler rack and insert pan and rack so top surface of 1-inch thick steak is 2 to 3 inches from the heat and a 2-inch steak, 3 to 5 inches. When one side is browned, season, turn and finish cooking on second side. A 1-inch thick sirloin steak requires 15 to 20 minutes total time for rare, 20 to 25 minutes for medium. A 2-inch steak requires 30 to 35 minutes for rare, 40 to 50 for medium.

These Cookies Will Delight The Children

Snack time comes more frequently in the summer when your youngsters are out of school for several months of outdoor play in balmy weather. A day of hard activity builds up such appetites, that you sometimes wonder if children can ever get filled.

One snack they always go for in a big way is a cooky . . . especially Mom's homemade kind. A full cooky jar certainly brings on the smiles.

This delicious new recipe is one you simply must try. The crunchy, sweet morsels are filled with tiny butterscotch pieces, quick-cooking oats and flecks of orange rind or peel. The key to their crispy, crunchy texture, states home economist Reba Staggs, is the lard used as the shortening.

Prepared once, Snack Time Cookies are destined for repeat performances and a permanent place in your recipe file.

SNACK TIME COOKIES

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup lard
½ cup sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups quick-cooking oats
1 package (6 ounces) butterscotch pieces
2 tablespoons grated orange rind, or 1 teaspoon dried orange peel

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream lard and sugars. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Add sifted ingredients. Stir in butterscotch pieces and orange rind or peel. Mix well. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls, about 2 inches apart on greased cooky sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 4 to 5 dozen cookies.

CANTALOUPE MELBA

1 package (10 ounces) frozen raspberries
1 cantaloupe
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Thaw raspberries; press through a fine-mesh strainer that seeds will not go through. In a small saucepan bring the strained raspberry syrup to a boil; simmer stirring constantly, until just thickened—about 5 minutes; there should be about 2-3 cup. Chill. Cut cantaloupe in half crosswide and remove seeds; slice 2 rings from center of each cantaloupe half and remove rind. (Remaining cantaloupe will be nice pared, diced and used in a fruit cup.) Place a scoop of ice cream in the center of each ring; spoon over the raspberry sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Spelling Boners In Old Cookbooks

Cheer up, you modern lady-cooks. Even if you can't bone a turkey, pickle oysters by the hundred, bake dyspepsia bread or brew portable soup as did your great-grandmothers, you're still beating your female progenitors at spelling.

Maybe you do feed your family TV dinners.

Maybe you are addicted to mixes — biscuit, waffle, popover, cream-puff, cake and pie.

What if it is your fate to go through life without ever shelling a green pea, sniveling a green bean or soaking hominy in lye because nowadays you use peas and beans from frozen packages and hominy from cans?

You may be losing out on the art of cooking and baking from scratch, but you sure are gaining a knowledge of spelling.

Once again we've been perusing cookbooks written and published between 1885 and 1963 by groups of ladies banded together to aid their church or favorite charity. Our latest findings report that you modern do-gooders are 'way ahead in the spelling race.

Here's our latest list of amusing cookbook boners, these from a delightful collection of recipes put together by a bevy of lady-cooks in 1885.

MISSPELLED: Pistachoe.

The correct spelling is, of course, meringue. This concoction of beaten egg white, sugar and flavoring is used many ways. Misspelled: Carraway.

Just one "r" please in caraway. Caraway seeds are the fruit of the caraway herb. In this country we use caraway chiefly in rye bread and cole slaw. European cooks often use caraway in sweet yeast breads and in cakes.

Misspelled: Croquets.

The cook who misspelled croquettes gave a recipe for those little patties made from minced chicken and sweetbreads that were so popular at the turn of the century. Meat, fish and hard-cooked eggs are also used in croquettes. All these mixtures are dipped in a coating of egg-and-crumbs and fried in deep or shallow fat. Croquettes in 1963 are made much as they were in 1885, and taste as delicious now as they did almost a hundred years ago.

A plum glaze tangily dresses delectable grilled spareribs in a new look. Surely they will please all outdoor cookery fans! If you wish, decorate the platter with broiled orange slices.

Fruit-Glazed Spareribs Tops

Spareribs, favorites for backyard cookouts, shed their familiar barbecue sauce for a fruit glaze, producing a crusty, tangy-flavored treat.

The glaze mixes a can of plums, which you strain through a sieve, with concentrated orange juice and a bit of Worcestershire sauce. It's spread on the ribs only during the last ½ hour of grilling. Any extra may be served as a sauce. Reba Staggs, meat expert, says that spareribs should grill slowly about 4 to 5 inches from the coals.

SPARERIBS—TANGY PLUM GLAZE

3 pounds spareribs
2½ teaspoons salt
1 can (1 pound, 14 ounces) plums
¾ cup frozen concentrated orange juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Place spareribs on grill 4 to 5 inches from glowing coals. Season with salt. Grill about 1 hour, turning occasionally. Drain plums, reserving ½ cup juice. Force plums through a sieve. Add the ½ cup plum juice, orange juice and Worcestershire sauce to the sieved plums. After spareribs have cooked 1 hour, spread part of plum glaze over ribs. Turn and grill 15 minutes. Spread more plum glaze on top side, turn and grill an additional 15 minutes. Serve any remaining plum glaze over spareribs. 4 to 6 servings.

An easy-to-make recipe, which he calls "Grilled Imperial Crown Meat Loaf," enabled Thomas J. McDermott, Jr., Los Angeles attorney, to win the title of America's Cookout Champion for 1963. Competing against skilled backyard chefs from all sections of the nation, McDermott received $10,000 from Kaiser Foil for his recipe, which features ground lamb, eggs, cracker crumbs, catsup, mushrooms and pineapple chunks. McDermott is the youngest winner in four years of the national barbecue event "for men only" held annually in Hawaii.

Soft meringue makes the topping (and insulation) for that gorgeous ice-cream-and-cake dessert known as Baked Alaska, as well as the "forsting" for creamy pie fillings. Steamed meringue makes delightful floating-island desserts. Medium-soft meringue makes broiled cake toppings. Meringue makes the crisp cookies known as kisses, as well as hollow shells for ice cream. Meringue mixtures also yield heavenly torte and angel-pie shells.

MISSPELLED: Pistachoe.

The word is pistachio and cooks are involved with it when they use the tiny oval-shaped nuts from the pistachio tree. This nut has a smooth, thin, brittle inner shell and an oily delicate-flavored light-green meat. Pistachio nuts were fashionable in Victorian days. Pistachio-flavored ice cream is still with us and still has a certain mystique.

Misspelled: Carraway.

Just one "r" please in caraway. Caraway seeds are the fruit of the caraway herb. In this country we use caraway chiefly in rye bread and cole slaw. European cooks often use caraway in sweet yeast breads and in cakes.

Juan Guerrero Vocal Great—Sinaloa Feature

Excitement is running high at the Sinaloa these evenings. Owner Luz Garcia has just inked Juan Guerrero, one of South America's most outstanding vocal greats and a former feature singer with Xavier Cugat's orchestra, for a limited cantina engagement. His opening last Friday night was to standing room crowds. Juan is a polished performer who sings both Latin and American songs of romance.

A palate tempting dish served Thursdays only at the New Southern restaurant: Polenta and Rabbit. This, of course, is in addition to the evening entrees . . . Earl's House of Fine Foods is open — vacation over . . . "Giant sandwiches for Giant games" is the theme song at Danilo's in Burlingame. Yes, sir, Danny packs everything that's on steam table display to travel, along with the sandwiches. "Great idea for the Giant players to enjoy while being left on base" . . . Just one more reminder: Johnny Kan's at the Hyatt House is now open and serving the delish Cantonese food that has made the name Kan a world famed "food signature."

KARL PETERSON, former Chief Steward on the luxury liner S. S. Matsonia, is now Assistant Manager in charge of Food and Beverage at the Hyatt House, in Burlingame, according to General Manager Ed Sullivan. A long and varied career on the sea included service on the Swedish-American Lines famed S. S. Gripsholm. Mr. Peterson was associated with American Export Lines and was on the staff of the S. S. Constitution at the time former film star Grace Kelly made a special voyage to Monaco for her wedding to Prince Rainier. Although most of Mr. Peterson's 27-year career was spent at sea, he has had considerable experience in restaurant and night club operations in New York City. A well-known yachtsman, Peterson is the owner of the 45-foot racing sloop "Adonica," which he sails as often as time will permit. He is well acquainted in San Francisco and the Bay Area, and is a member of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere . . .

THE SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO SUNSHINE GARDEN SHOPPING CENTER seems much "brighter" these days. One reason being the advent of the Il Manzo Steak House which is operated by Joe "Rebel" Passalaqua, Chris Michaels, and Paul Lunardi. Specialties are steaks and seafood served daily, except Monday, from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.; Sundays, 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. Chris Michaels entertains at the pianobar, along with Jimmy Ware on bass, in the Decanter Cocktail Lounge. Chef Don is in charge of the culinary department. Beverage tip: "Mermaid's Kiss" . . . Season tickets to the sixth annual Monterey Jazz Festival, September 20-21-22, will be available until August 1. The internationally known event, comprising five concerts and a number of special events, plans to offer Miles Davis, the Modern Jazz Quartet, Harry James, Dave Brubeck, Mel Torme, Gerry Mulligan, Thelonious Monk and specially commissioned works to be premiered by the Gerald Wilson All-Star Big Band.

Mexican Drinks

On that special evening when something extra is sought, suggest a visit to Horky's in Belmont or Palo Alto. Here you will find dishes seldom seen on a Mexican menu. You will also enjoy the lure of exotic decor and the Mexican drinks served at Horky's in Palo Alto. A sea food fancier? This restaurant has an extensive menu listing of delicious ocean delicacies.

Italian restaurants seem to make a specialty of serving Veal Scallopini—and one of my favorite stops for same is Nick Finocchio's San Francisco's New Tivoli.

Frank and Fannie Torres report that this summer start is one of the best in their Montara Beach hotel history. Even the gift shop is doing triple the usual business.

The tender chicken served at Keith Williamson's Chicken House is supplied by Reif and Brody Inc., Poultry Processors, Inc., Petaluma. No frozen birds used.

"Show me a man who doesn't stay with at least one relative during a two-week vacation," commented Enrico Romano "and I'll show you an orphan."

Bob Bellows Caravan Inn

Betty Sedam, the new "on the ball" general manager of the Mountain View Caravan Inn, has scored an entertainment bull's eye by booking recording star Bob Bellows to a piano entertainment contract. He opened last Monday.

Food here is excellent Omaha and Kansas City beef served exclusively.

Frank Martinelli's Chalet restaurant is a popular early evening rendezvous, as well as a Friday and Saturday late-night fun fest for the after 2 a.m. breakfast show, when Ed and Floyd are entertainment features; the great American dish of ham 'n' eggs is a menu must. feature.

Don't know many places working three bartenders during the lunch hours, but this is the schedule at the Brentwood Lodge. The cocktail lounge is also set up for food service during the rush.

A strawberry waffle fan for many years, I feel your Bright Lighter can say with authority that those served at Uncle John's Pancake House are the tastiest — especially when side dished with Canadian bacon and a cup of hot coffee.

Omar Khayyam's

Never knew until the other evening that Alfred Keoseyan, manager of George Mardikian's prominent Omar Khayyam's restaurant, was a golfer. He's ready, willing, and able to challenge any of the restaurateurs who lay claim to shooting in the low 90s.

Bob Annis of the Bit of England invites you to enjoy the music of the Stan Gibb Quartet on Friday and Saturday evenings. P.S.: With a little coaxing, Bob will play a tune on his electric guitar. Welllll, maybe.

International Inn restaurant manager Phil Rauscher has his vacation sights set on Mexico. You're not alone, Mr. Rauscher, me, too.

You're in for a musical treat when visiting the fireplace cocktail lounge at Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake. Dick Vartanian is the versatile 88er.

Varied Selection

The Palo Alto entertainment parade is highlighted with an exotic floor show at the Cameo Club. Top variety acts from California and Nevada are selected by Lee Robertson. From the huge crowds that gather 'round here during the nightly floor shows (starts at 9 p.m.),

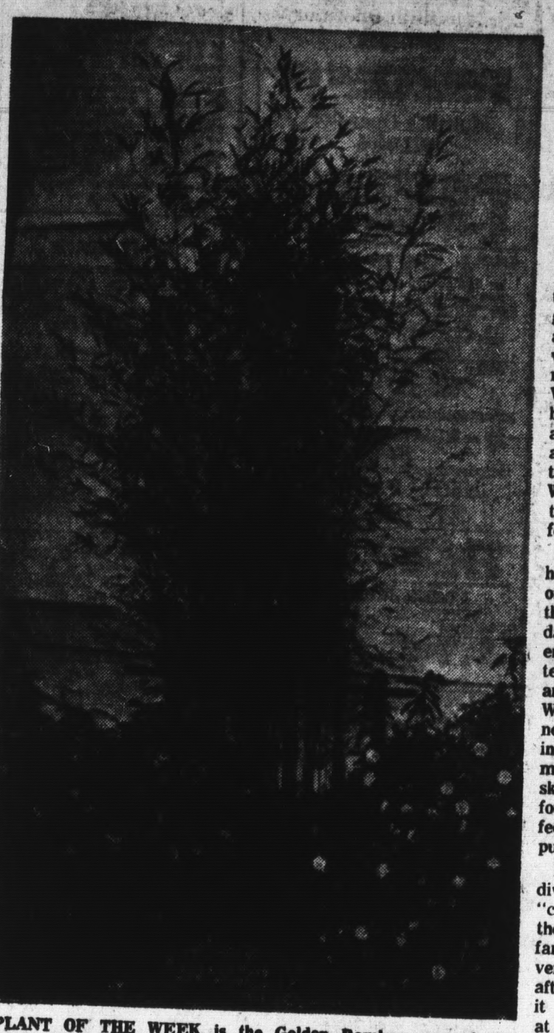
Bamboo Is Plant of Week



PLANT OF THE WEEK is the Golden Bamboo, one of the most widely planted of the "running" bamboos. It is used as a foundation plant near a window at the home of the C. Ray Wilmore, Easton drive, Burlingame.

Golden Bamboo, Phyllostachys aurea, one of the most widely grown of the running bamboos, is The Times Plant of the Week. Our inspirational plant is grown as a clump, near a window in the front of the C. Ray Wilmore home on Easton drive, Burlingame.

The phyllostachys is not a true bamboo but is so closely related that for all general purposes it is bamboo. Like bamboo it is a tall, woody, hollow - stemmed grass. The polished, hollow stems are partitioned at the joints which shows up as a conspicuous ring around the trunk or stem. When the Japanese use this bamboo, or any of the bamboos, in arrangements they heat a rod and burn holes through these partitions to below the branches. Water is filled into the partitions to supply the needed moisture for keeping the leaves green.

Many of the bamboos grow to heights of twenty to forty feet or more. It is not unusual for these bamboos to grow a foot a day in the growing season. Golden Bamboo averages eight to fifteen feet depending upon the amount of care it receives. The Wilmores kept their plants in a neat, compact group by root pruning annually. However, Mrs. Wilmore said a root that had been skipped travelled along the house foundation to a length of ten feet before it was noticed and pulled out.

Bamboos may be roughly divided into two groups, the "clump" or runnerless type and the "running root" type. The fancy timber bamboo can fill a very large space in the garden, after a period of years, unless it is systematically root pruned at fairly frequent intervals.

Poppies Cover Italian Fields

EDITOR'S NOTE—Iva Newman is touring Europe. This report is from Florence, Rome, Nice and Monte Carlo.

By IVA NEWMAN

We took a new Ciat bus from Venice to Florence so we could see the countryside. It was amazing how the land flattended out. No longer did we see snow capped mountains in the distance and steep mountainsides covered with grapevines.

Homes became smaller and olive trees more numerous. Roadsides and fields were thickly dotted with the bright red-orange poppies that we have come to know as "Flander's Poppies."

Florence is lovely. Roses are everywhere. They use them in quantity as street plantings and lane dividers. They are very popular in private gardens also for we never found a single garden without at least a half-dozen rose plants. Rose plants here are much smaller than our Peninsula plants and close examination showed they had been pruned back to one or two "eyes."

The European Sycamore, pruned to the point of butchering, is the most popular street tree. Some of these trees had every limb cut to within two inches of the main trunk. At a distance they looked like slender junipers. We saw no private gardens in this city and the parks were formal in design and almost entirely without color. However, our hotel had a colorful roof garden and long-stemmed carnations decorated our table.

We arrived in the ancient city of Rome in the early evening in the rain. Our first impression was of a grey city with treeless hills and huge statues at every turn. We were surprised to find brilliant pink and red godetias being offered as cut flowers along with the usual roses and carnations.

Morning found the city sunny and we started our get acquainted tours. The first thing we learned was that Rome has 527 churches which belong to the Italian government. There is also a large number of basilicas, but these belong to the Vatican. By mid-afternoon we realized our guide had every intention of showing us all of them. The death of the Pope prevented us from seeing the Vatican garden, so we convinced the guide that after some fifty or more churches and statues they all looked alike and we wanted to see gardens. He took us to the Villa d'Este, known for its fountain garden. This garden is built along the sides and bottom of a deep ravine. Steps and paths doubled back and forth along the bank, and at every turn a fountain offered entertainment. The areas between the paths were planted to shrubs such as azaleas, rhododendrons, hydrangeas and the inevitable Flander's Poppies. At the bottom of the ravine a series of large pools carried the water away. The amazing part of these fountains is that no motor is used to force the water into the air. The ancient landscape architect changed the course of a river to provide both the power and the water for these famous fountains.

Our second garden was around the ruins of the Villa Adriana, built in 134 A.D. Olive trees in this garden were still bearing fruit, although over 1800 years old. A lane of huge cypress trees, planted close to 400 years ago were still healthy and attractive.

We took a special trip to Naples so as to travel along both the old and the new Appian Way. We drove through flower and fruit markets to the open country side. All along the New Appian Way umbrella pines have been planted at fifty-foot intervals.

HOMES & GARDENS

Petunias Are Eye-stopping In the Home

By IVA NEWMAN

No longer need Peninsulaites with a moderate sized place plan an extensive border in order to achieve an eye-stopping show of color. With this year's new style petunias, a couple of window boxes or a narrow, raised bed will provide a show of which ay home owner may be proud.

What's so different between these petunias and the older varieties? The main difference is that they have been developed for a specific purpose, not just to get new colors or flower forms. Bred by an internationally known hybridizer, Charles Weddle, president of the Pan American Seed company, they have been created to give a maximum display in a minimum amount of space.

The nearest thing to these new beauties which has been available in the past is the old-fashioned "Balcony Petunia," a type formerly used, as the name implies, to hang down in long vine-like trailers. The new Cascades are also trailing in habit but they differ from the Balconies in three most important ways:

First of all, while pendant in habit, they are compact, due to their more vigorous growth and to shorter length of stem between the leaf nodes. As the name suggests, they cascade rather than trail.

Secondly, (as so many hybrid plants do), they bear much larger blooms. And in addition to these two advantages, the colors of the flowers are clearer and more brilliant than any before known in the petunia family.

SUN, MOON AND TIDE

WEDNESDAY

Sun Rises ..05:56 Sun Sets ..20:34
Moon Rises 23:30 Moon Sets ..09:43

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, numbered consecutively from 01:00 (1 a.m.) to 24:00 (midnight) instead of using 12 hours twice followed by a.m. or p.m. Noon is 12:00, 1 p.m. is 13:00. This is the practice followed by the army, navy and all government tide tables and almanacs.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California, Furnished by Marine Exchange, Inc., from Coast and Geodetic Survey Data. Half Moon Bay tide 2 hours and 10 minutes earlier.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).

Nunziati Appointed

Jesse G. Nunziati, Pescadero rancher, was appointed last week a director of the San Mateo county Soil Conservation district.

Nunziati, who was nominated by the Half Moon Bay Grower's association and the Pescadero Water association, was recommended to the county board of supervisors by County Manager E. R. Stallings.

"In view of the importance to Coastside and especially to the soil conservation district of the proposed Pescadero water project," Stallings told the board, "it would appeal expedient to have representation on the district board from a very active member of the Pescadero Water association. Nunziati not only appears to be eminently qualified for appointment but also mets this particular qualification."

Probation Study Set

A $10,000 study of the county probation department was authorized last week by the county board of supervisors.

The board retained the San Francisco firm of Griffinhagen-Kroeger who make the survey, which will include a complete analysis of the department's administrative setup and will involve personnel policies, staffing and the application of probation principles.

The study was requested by judges of the superior court after the "revolt" last fall by a group of department employes.

The board agreed on the membership of a steering committee to which the project team will report. It will include the judge of judge or his designate, the chairman and vice chairman of the county juvenile justice commission, and County Manager E. R. Stallings.

Bracero Loss Means a Crop Decline in County

San Mateo county's growers, big and small, are going to be faced with a possible 50 per cent loss of crops next year if the Mexican bracero program dies Dec. 31. This is the concensus of local growers.

The U. S. House of Representatives tentatively has decided not to renew the law which would allow U. S. agriculture to import the braceros from Mexico.

There's talk that it still may be extended in deference to U. S. farmers' pleas for a gradual phaseout of Mexican nationals, but nothing definite yet.

But even with its comparatively small number of braceros, San Mateo county agriculture is looking for its lumps next year if the Mexican workers can't come back.

County growers have been employing only about 500-600 a year, not very many compared to the Salinas Valley's 13,500 at peaks.

California, where farm wages are highest ($1.33 top, $1.10 an hour in San Mateo county), is the largest customer for bracero labor, taking on as many as 72,900 at the height of the harvests.

The problem for farmers is not whether they have to pay higher wages to domestic workers but whether they can get enough workers at all to harvest the crops.

Labor and religious groups are harping that use of the braceros cuts wage scales and takes jobs from domestics, particularly the nearly sim million now unemployed.

Not so, say San Mateo county agriculturalists.

FIRST OFF, a condition of hiring braceros is that they must be a last resort — any grower hiring braceros also must hire any domestic that comes along — that's the law.

SECOND, most of the homegrown unemployed simply can't or won't do the type of work called for in harvesting Brussels sprouts, artichokes, lettuce beats, etc. This is "stoop" labor, something the average Mexican farmer has done all his life but which automation and lanky frames have left the Northamericano unequipped for mentally or physically.
